Frankie Laine Numismatist (Also Sings)

Anyone who has an extra $4 gold piece, and who has a hankering to meet Frankie Laine, he of stage, movie, radio, TV and recording fame (he sings, too) is cordially invited to look him up for a coin collecting swap session, not jam session.

Yes, Frankie Laine is one of us, having taken up the study of numismatics little more than a year ago. He also plays golf and the guitar, reads, tries his hand at painting, and writes songs.

Frankie thinks that today's teenagers have a "legitimate beef." "Everybody points a finger at today's youngsters and says, 'juvenile delinquency,' but these same youngsters look at television programs about the Roaring Twenties and what went on then. They get to thinking, and I'm with them, that what they do isn't so bad by comparison."

Frankie Laine (legal name Lovocchio) started singing in a school choir in his native Chicago. He went "professional" after a friend asked him to get up and sing with an orchestra. "Everybody seemed to like my voice," Frankie recalled, "but success wasn't won in an instant."

He sang for his supper on many occasions, and during one period he slept four nights on a park bench in New York City, dining on candy bars.

But now Frankie Lane has it made...he's a coin collector.

Ancient Gold Coins 'Faked'

Police in Marseille, France, have uncovered a traffic in counterfeit Napoleons, ancient French gold pieces that are widely sought by gold hoarders of that country.

It was reported that counterfeiting the gold pieces may not be a crime because Napoleons are not legal money, but unauthorized gold transfers across certain international borders are punishable.

New Mint Head Sworn In; Dr. L. Howard Gets New Post

Mint Veteran Heads Gold, Silver Office

Dr. F. Leland Howard, assistant and often acting Director of the United States Mint since 1938, veteran of nearly 28 years in the Mint service, has been named Director of the newly-created Office of Domestic Gold and Silver Operations by Treasury Under Secretary for Monetary Affairs Robert V. Roosa.

Dr. Howard's appointment to the new post came almost immediately following Secretary Douglas Dillon's order earlier this month creating the Office of Domestic Gold and Silver Operations, according to Robert Dillon, spokesman for the Office of Information, Department of the Treasury.

Secretary Roosa said Howard, who is assistant director of the United States Mint, and who has been acting director for the past nine months, will serve in a dual capacity—head of the new office and assistant director for an "indeterminate period."

The internationally known authority on financial, mint, precious metals and coinage systems was almost serving in three capacities for several days.

Administration of the oath of office as Director of the Mint to Miss Eva B. Adams in Washington October 30 permitted Dr. Howard to relinquish his "acting director" title and turn his attention to his new work and to continue to his Civil Service post as assistant director of the mint for the undetermined period.

Dr. Howard's appointment, according to many observers, places one of the world's most knowledgeable men in charge of all gold and silver matters of the country.

Only a few days ago the Treasury Department announced it had transferred gold and silver matters from the Bureau of the Mint to direct command of Treasury Under Secretary Roosa.

A new, broad study of silver by the Kennedy administration will determine if it is still a precious metal suitable for money or more nearly a workaday industrial commodity to be traded like copper or scrap iron, according to the Wall Street Journal.

The Journal advocated the possibility that the Kennedy administration will do away with the silver reserve behind part of the nation's paper currency, or that there might be a complete divorce of silver from the United States monetary system except as ingredient for coins.

Dr. Howard will conduct a series of meetings and studies to center on the 1.9 billion ounces of silver now owned by the Treasury.

Dr. Howard has advised the governments of Germany, Japan, Peru, India and Australia on monetary affairs. His last consultation was an invitation from the Australian government to be their guest and report on a decimal coinage system and the reconstitution of the coinage system in that country.

Dr. Howard, personable and knowledgeable, started in the Mint service as an auditor.

Eva B. Adams

Eva B. Adams 2nd Woman Mint Director

Eva B. Adams became the 18th Director of the United States Mint—and the second woman ever to take the oath of the office—on Monday, October 30, with Supreme Court Justice Tom C. Clark officiating at the ceremony in Washington.

Miss Adams was appointed to the post a month ago by President John F. Kennedy. A resident of Reno, Nevada, she has been serving as administrative assistant to Senator Alan Bible.

This is the highest governmental position ever attained by a Nevada woman.

Nomination of Miss Adams, administrative assistant to three Nevada senators over the last 20 years, was approved by the Senate Banking and Currency subcommittee and was speedily confirmed on the Senate floor by a unanimous vote.

The appointment is for five year term.

Miss Adams will establish her headquarters at the Treasury Department offices in Washington, D.C.

In her new position, one of the oldest in federal service, having been established by Congress in 1792, she will direct the Washington office and six field institutions in Philadelphia, Denver, San Francisco, New York City, Fort Knox, Ky., and West Point, N.Y.

Miss Adams will handle general mint policies and the production of both foreign and domestic coin plus manufacturing medals of national character.

She succeeds William H. Brett, a Cleveland native, who resigned January 1 of this year, and left office with President Dwight D. Eisenhower.

Dr. F. Leland Howard has been both assistant and acting director of the Mint for the past nine months.

Brett, who was sworn in July 9, 1954, and reappointed by President Eisenhower in 1959 for another five-year term, remained in Washington where he is conducting research work and market studies for a series of industrial clients.

Miss Adams' feminine counterpart was Nellie Tayloe Ross who served as director of the Mint from the early 1930's until the early 1950's.

"All of Nevada and the West must share the pride we have in this appointment to one of the top posts in the federal government," Senator Bible said. "Although this will be a great loss to my office, it is a deserved reward of years of outstanding service to her state and country."

The appointment, recommended to President Kennedy by Senator Bible earlier this year, climaxes a governmental career begun in 1940 when Miss Adams left a post as assistant dean of women at the University of Nevada in Reno to join the late Senator Pat McCarran.

A native of Wonder, Nevada, she was graduated from the University of Nevada in 1928, later teaching at Las Vegas high school

Commemorative Book Released

A complete book on both silver and gold United States commemorative coins—written by an art director, Warren A. Ruby, Mason City, Iowa, reflects both Author Ruby's scholarship, his numismatic inheritance and his fine artistic abilities.

Anyone who is faintly interested in commemorative coins will become fascinated by the first ruffle of pages—from the foreword, which says the author has one aim—to have facts, interesting stories, history and data—in one volume—to the designers' biographies in the back.

Author Ruby who describes the "fascinations of the commemorative coin," says he avoids prices as the current evaluation and selling price of coins are an entirely different field.

The book is dedicated to Ruby's wife, Evelyn, "who conveniently turned her head whenever I bought a coin," quipped the writer.

Artwork is of superb quality—120 sharp photographs, plus 165

Warren A. Ruby

handsome illustrations of drawings of events pertaining to the coins by the author—a boon to any history student from 8 to 80.

A section is given over to the collecting of commemoratives, their care, another is on oddities and curiosities. The book's appeal to both the casual reader as well as the collector because of its new and fresh approach to the subject is immediately recognizable.

There are 128 pages bound in an attractive hard cardboard cover, printed in two colors. Cost is $3.00. A deluxe cloth binding is also available at $4.00. Address for orders is: Ruby Distributing Co., 639 7th St. N.E., Mason City, Iowa.

Ruby, who is 49, has been collecting coins since he was 12 years old. The Rubys have three children; he is art director of the Mason City Schools.

He is a graduate of the University of Iowa and has a M.A. degree from the University of Minnesota. His illustrations have appeared in national magazines as well as a number of books on fiction.

He authored the book, "The Art Teacher's Guide," used in many schools throughout the United States and Canada.

For three years Ruby did medical illustrations.

His late father, A. F. Ruby, had one of the most completely collections of U.S. half dollars and dimes in the Iowa section. It was through his father that Ruby became interested in numismatics.

Book Auction Prices High In New York

A 123 lot of numismatic books brought $1,538.50 at an auction sale in New York City, October 12.

Swann Galleries, Inc., an auction house of books, autographs, and prints sold the library of numismatic books, a consignment from Maury A. Bromsen, a rare book dealer in Boston, Mass.

A two volume set of George Francis Hill's "A Corpus of Italian Medals of the Renaissance before Cellini," a British Museum publication in 1930, brought $60.

Henry Cohen's seven volume standard work on Roman coins, "Description Historique des Monnaies frappées sous l'Empire Romain," was knocked down for $75.

A 10 year run of the British Numismatic Journal from 1905 to 1914 sold for $80.

The library, containing books on medals and tokens as well as coins, was strong on foreign numismatic books. It contained one lot on American publications; 15 items, brought $25.

United Nations Issues Three Official Medals

The United Nations has established three medals—the United Nations service medal for Korea, the United Nations emergency forces medal and the United Nations medal, according to Alice V. R. Smith, chief, public inquiries unit.

The United Nations medal has been established as an award to military personnel who are or have been in the service of the United Nations.

At the present time, according to Chief Smith, this includes the following United Nations organs:

United Nations Truce Supervision Organizations in Palestine; the United Nations Military Observer Group in India and Pakistan, the United Nations Observation Group in Lebanon and the United Nations Force in the Congo.

Round in form, the medal bears the emblem of the United Nations and the letters, "U.N." Suspended from a ribbon, this ribbon strip is repeated as a service ribbon. Wearing of the medal and the service ribbons or miniatures are governed by the regulations of the national governments of the recipients. Awards are subject to the approval of the national governments concerned.

Medals issued to the United Nations force in the Congo include a bar with the word, Congo, inscribed, according to Chief Smith.

The United Nations Emergency Force Medal has the initials UNEF included in its design. This force, the first "peace force" organized and maintained by the UN to help keep peace in a particularly sensitive area of the world, has the duty of securing and supervising the cessation of hostilities and withdrawal of armed forces from the Egyptian territory, and to maintain peaceful conditions in the area. This force was given its mandate in November, 1956.

Since then with a strength varying between 5,000 and 6,000 men, UNEF—as it has become known—has successfully carried out its unique mission of insuring quiet in a part of the Middle East which was formerly continuously troubled.

Lynn Club Newly Formed

The newly formed Lynn, Mass., Coin Club is scheduled to hold its first regular meeting on Tuesday, November 14, at the Assumption Hall, Western Avenue, in Lynn, according to a report from the secretary, Mrs. Gloria M. Turner.

James P. Cox was elected president at the organizational session, along with Mrs. Turner as secretary.

The Lynn club plans to meet on the second Tuesday of each month, at the same place and time, Mrs. Turner stated.

United Nations service medal

By mid-1960 the military strength of UNEF had grown to about 5,400 men drawn from seven countries, Brazil, Canada, Denmark, India, Norway, Sweden and Yugoslavia. Earlier Colombian, Finnish and Indonesian contingents also served.

Military personnel from any of the permanent members of the Security Council—China, France, the USSR, the United Kingdom and the United States—and of any country that might have a special interest in the conflict were excluded from service.

Dr. Howard ...

He rose through the ranks as budget officer, field examiner, head of the silver unit, administrative assistant to the director and to his high post in 1938 as assistant and often as acting director of the United States Mint.

The army called upon Dr. Howard for his advice in 1945—and he went to Germany to study the precious metals program there. Swiftly his services were required in the same capacity by the eighth army in Japan.

Down South America way went Dr. Howard in 1951 when the Peruvian officials needed advice about their government's financial and Mint matters.

In 1957 Dr. Howard headed a mission to India for the purpose of negotiating the return of lend-lease silver.

The University of Kentucky claims Dr. Howard—he received a B.S. degree from its College of Commerce. His master and doctor's degree were received in economics from the University of Virginia.

His first teaching experiences did not involve world govern-

Dr. Howard is a native of Hodgenville, Kentucky, born August 21, 1907, the son of Joseph and Florence Howard.

He married Edith Owen Sisk; their daughters are Anne Dudley, Nancy Lee and Elizabeth Marshall.

The Mint executive, a member of the Presbyterian church, is affiliated with the Beta Gamma Sigma, Phi Sigma Kappa and Delta Sigma Pi fraternities.

In addition to his many demands as an advisor in many capacities, Dr. Howard has also prepared or supplied information for a number of newspapers, periodicals and encyclopedias.

Club To Have First Anniversary

The Tree Towns Coin Club of Elmhurst, Ill., announced plans for its first anniversary meeting, scheduled for November 8, at 8 p.m., at the Elmhurst Y.M.C.A., according to a report from Helen Olenicki, publicity chairman.

A question and answer program, with special awards going to members with highest scores, will be a meeting highlight, and will be conducted by Mrs. Olenicki.

The club had 15 members at its first meeting, and now has a paid up membership of 51. It has started a library of numismatic books and periodicals, and auctions are held every second month, with the next auction set for the December meeting.

Due to the increase in membership, the club has outgrown its present meeting place, and beginning with the January meeting will meet at the Butterfield Park Field House in Elmhurst.

All neighboring club members and numismatists are invited to attend meetings of the Tree Towns Coin Club, Mrs. Olenicki said.

Persons desiring additional information about the club may contact the publicity chairman at 572 Linden avenue, Elmhurst.

Arrest Of Teenage Youth Solves Huge Coin Theft

Detectives Robert Hibbert, left, and Jeremiah Scully, of the Springfield, Mass., police department, whose investigation was climaxed with the arrest of a teenage Forest Park boy who allegedly stole nearly $5,000 in rare stamps and coins in two robberies at the Tatham Coin and Stamp Co., are shown with part of the loot. Also in the picture are a tape recorder and Geiger counter, purchased by the youth with part of the stolen loot.

A teenage boy has been arrested at Springfield, Mass., charged with breaking into the Tatham Coin and Stamp Co., of that city on two separate occasions and taking valuable stamps and coins valued at nearly $5,000.

Detectives said that the actual worth of the stolen loot was much higher, however. For example one roll of dimes which were uncirculated has a face value of $5, but would be valued by collectors at $300.

The arrest capped several weeks of intensive investigation work by detectives Jeremiah Scully and Robert Hibbert. The loot was reported uncovered from behind rafters in the cellar of the young burglar's home in Forest Park.

Several months ago the youth had been arrested and admitted stealing more than $5,000 worth of television and camera equipment from various stores. He was placed on probation for these offenses.

The first break at the Tatham firm occurred on Sept. 17. The boy let himself down into the store through a skylight and gathered up almost $3,000 in valuable coins and stamps. He returned again on Oct. 4, once more entering through the skylight and this time escaped with loot totaling about $1,847.

When arrested, the youth readily confessed, police said, and told officers that he made no attempt to get more for the coins than face value.

Captain William Martin, head of the detective bureau, termed the arrest "a real good catch," and had high praise for the work of his men in breaking the case.

The boy's case was scheduled for later hearing in juvenile session of District Court, it was reported.

Jonah Shapiro of Syracuse, N. Y., reported to Providence, R. I., police recently that thieves broke into his parked car while it was parked in Providence and took foreign and American coins valued at more than $8,000.

Shapiro, who is a coin dealer, said the coins were in an attache case and a piece of luggage.

Listed as missing were 12 early American $5 gold pieces valued at $2,820; a box of 26 rolls of early cent pieces valued at $2,860; four $20 gold pieces valued at $168; six $10 gold pieces worth $360; several 1955 double struck 1955 cents valued at $225; a $5 gold piece valued at $135; and about 135 pieces of colonial coins valued at $1,950.

Police of Pomona, Calif., have issued a bulletin to other authorities and coin-stamp shops cautioning them to be on the lookout for a $4,100 collection of coins and stamps taken during a burglary of Perlin's Coin and Stamp Shop of Pomona.

The shop owner, Herbert S. Perlin, reported that he was the victim of a similar burglary earlier this year. In the first case, police arrested the thief and recovered the loot.

Thomas Golding of Santa Margarita, Calif., reported to police that burglars took a $248 collection of coins and bills from his home. Also missing were several guns and a hi-fi console.

The California Coin Shop, Oakland, Calif., was robbed of $50 recently, two days after the death of the owner, Agnes G. Carson.

A holdup man walked into the store and told Eugene Ernst, who was watching the store, to "get in the back room and stay there."

He emptied the cash register, but didn't touch any valuable coins.

Unknown persons broke into three Ellenton, S. C. business establishments recently and escaped with a valuable coin collection owned by J. W. Poe, owner of the City Cleaners, one of the three firms that was burglarized.

Poe told investigators that he had been collecting the coins for more than 20 years and needed only one coin to have a complete set of all types of one cent pieces, minted in the United States.

He said the missing collection included several gold pieces, 400 Indian head cents, several bills, 75 cards of coins of various denominations and between 75 and 100 rolls of cents which were mixed dates.

Thieves took a valuable coin collection recently from the home of Randolph MacBeath, Raynham, Mass. Entrance was gained into the MacBeath home by forcing a screen.

Theft of a coin collection, valued at $247, was reported to Oregon City, Oregon, police by Mrs. Lawrence F. Kelly of that city.

Coin Show To Be Held At Union Hall

The Tri-County Coin Club of St. Marys, Ohio, will hold its coin show at the U.R.W. Hall, South Street in St. Marys, on November 19 from 10 a.m. to 6 p.m., according to recent word from co-chairman Ray Eblen.

Information may be obtained from co-chairman Mike Maraker of 701 Blackhoof, Wapakoneta, Ohio, or Ray Eblen of 315 S. Mill street, Celina, Ohio.

Reported in the collection was a 1909-S VDB Lincoln cent, about 50 Indian head cents, several dimes and nickels, and various coins of other denominations.

Niagara Falls, N.Y., police are investigating the theft of a coin collection belonging to John Baltzly of that city. Baltzly told officers he returned home one recent evening to find that his home had been broken into.

Missing items included a collection of Lincoln cents, a stamp collection, a camera and a wrist watch.

Too Many Conventions?

Last month on the week-end of October 13-15, twelve coin conventions were held in various parts of the country. Prior to this time there was talk about too many conventions, but this one week-end brought action.

Dick Johnson
C.S.N.S. endorsed this.

At the interim meeting of the board of governors of the Central States Numismatic Association, this subject was acted upon. The officers of this regional organization suggested a council where convention dates would be cleared up to five years in advance.

Sol Kaplan, a board member of C.S.N.S. and also executive vice president of the dealers group, Professional Numismatists Guild, said his group was "in effect" acting as a clearing house by the support of dealers taking bourse tables.

Bourse rentals are the largest source of revenue for coin conventions and by block booking of the P.N.G. members, financial success is assured the convention picked by the P.N.G.

Block booking by P.N.G. has been both praised and criticized. In addition to financial success, the show that has these dealers as participants has a large pulling power in the stock these dealers bring to a show.

The criticism comes naturally from the convention officials that do not get the nod from the dealers group. P.N.G. as a rule will only authorize one convention a week-end for their members. Many shows must therefore proceed without the top name dealers.

The local club shows are not affected. The conflict comes between the regional and state conventions. For example on the week-end named above, three regional conventions (at Cleveland, Tulsa, and Springfield, Mass.), one state (Durham, N.C.), and the large show sponsored by the Chicago Coin Club, and seven other shows were staged.

Local shows succeed by their own support. But this is impossible for the state and regional conventions. Because they meet only once or twice a year, they need both dealer and collector attendance to support an expensive convention.

The number of conventions is rapidly on the rise. A count of those reported in our convention calendar shows:

1960	1961	1961
July ----- 5	January ----- 8	July ----- 7
August ----- 6	February ----- 3	August ----- 15
September ----- 17	March ----- 16	September ----- 32
October ----- 29	April ----- 43	October ----- 55
November ----- 19	May ----- 39	November ----- 33
December ----- 5	June ----- 18	December ----- 5
Total ----- 81	Total ----- 127	Total ----- 147

Before the increase in number, coin conventions were generally a financial success. The sponsoring regional or state organization usually let the local club make all the arrangements and keep any profits. This was one way a local club could add to its treasury.

But as the profits from conventions rose, the parent organization began taking a more proprietary interest and wanted a larger share of the spoils.

The number of coin conventions of the future will depend upon how successful those of today are. If by their own number, they become unprofitable because dealers and collectors cannot attend them all, they will be reduced in the future.

Letters To The Editor

I am a subscriber to your fine paper and have read every copy through and through.

I have read the gripes and the praises. I feel that you and your paper have done an excellent job but don't think you should rest on your past performance.

I feel that your advertisers should be informed through your paper how a buyer or collector reacts when we receive our checks back, or we are told that Coin World made a mistake, or that the advertiser is sold out even though we make long distance phone calls only minutes after receiving our copy of Coin World, or some child or some unhappy collector's wife answers the phone and won't even take a message even though the call is from 1200 miles away, or that when we finally do receive our purchases we find corroded coins or something wrong with every order, or having to wait for sometimes two months to receive what we ordered and paid for.

Since I have been purchasing items through Coin World I have changed my mind about mail and phone buying. From now on I get the merchandise first, inspect it then if satisfied, pay for it. I will furnish any amount of credit references required and am going to do this in advance. I believe that if the honest collectors would all buy like this we not only would receive quality but would be assured of good prices, speedy delivery and complete satisfaction. I should like to hear some comments on this from others.

Carl J. Murphy
Athens, Ohio

I would like to have you publicize my comment on the new Brown & Dunn Market Value Index for circulated U. S. Coins.

I was inveigled into buying this masterpiece because I found the B & D grading book well worth the price.

However, I did not expect to find that two better known contributors to the numismatic field guilty of such an obvious profit-making device as this "index". This soft-cover "glue" has 1957-1958 price estimates on nearly all coins except $20 gold and carries no detail on varieties, price fluctuations or other data which might justify a selling price of $1.75.

After all, we can get a printed premium guide of U.S. coins for 35 cents retail, and a couple I have seen are a doggone sight more usable as to price line. It seems obvious that nearly everybody in the coin business who puts out their personalized ideas on prices, estimated, etc., are trying to get on a gravy train of new and eager buyers of so-called "useful" coin guides.

I hate to see so much obvious gouging as this index represents, being foisted under title of 1/2 page ads depicting the so-called usage value of these guides I cite "Market Value Guide of Coins 1940 to 1968"—"Gold is Going Higher" etc., etc.

W. S. Neuman
Newark, N. J.

As a comparatively new (but already dedicated) collector, I may be way off base with a complaint about your recently announced advertising policy on "questionable" coins. I am in complete accord with your attitude except in one case.

I cannot see how a process that recovers the true identity of an otherwise unidentifiable coin is any more questionable than other acceptable methods of improving condition as many cleaners and tarnish removers that you advertise.

On the contrary, I believe this kind of restoration process is a real boon to collectors (and need not be a threat to dealers), provided the coins are represented as "restored", or "recovered". These coins are genuine and the restoring process does not alter the coin, although it does alter its condition.

It seems to me that you have adopted a rather arbitrary position, even though I am certain it was with considerable prior reflection. Your position may not be a numismatically "official" one, but it is an influential one due to your wide circulation, and it practically condemns such treated coins as acceptable material. This has the effect of depriving many collectors of the opportunity to secure a scarce coin at a moderate cost.

I wonder if your attitude represents the majority of collectors. Would you be willing to present this matter to your readers for expression of their opinions on it? I am impressed by how the democratic process operates in this hobby, where those interested have been consulted and majority opinion followed in selecting certain coins to be added to new coin books, as recently demonstrated with small dates and micro S's.

I have no vested interest in this subject, but I am jarred by what seems to be an arbitrary position for an otherwise scrupulous and fair policy system registered so far by Coin World.

Leo J. Zeff, Ph. D.
Berkeley 4, Calif.

Now you're doing business in the right direction for the small collector. I do believe there are more of them than the big dealer.

There should, also, be room in your paper for a column of comments by a staff member on the trades that appear in your new Trading Post. Should be interesting.

Rex B. Rogers
Adel, Iowa

The rapid rise of this coin paper is fantastic and proves that people will support anything worthwhile. Being a printer and linotype operator myself with the Cleveland Plain Dealer I can well appreciate the amount of work in layout, makeup, typesetting, proof reading, etc. that goes into a weekly tab of this size.

Your letters to the editor are just what the doctor ordered. While I agree wholeheartedly that everything rises rapidly except wages in printing, there is a large amount of work and headaches involved that the average person wouldn't want for all the money involved. A great credit to the abilities of Dick Johnson, Jim Kelly, etc. Keep up the fine work.

Your Coin World is making collectors out of many people and is aiding immensely in providing hobbies for people who hate to look to retirement with nothing to do and has a great bearing in increasing the life span of the normal person.

The keen interest, competition, and educational stories and shorts found in your fine paper proves and will continue to prove that the hobby of coin collecting will soon surpass all hobbies. It is the only hobby where you can have your cake and eat it, too.

Congratulations to you and all the staff, including the printers, who must rush constantly to beat the deadline to get this paper to the reader with fastest speed known of any coin paper.

William B. Hall
Cleveland, Ohio

P. S. I'm personally responsible for making 23 new collectors at the Cleveland Plain Dealer and the Coin World is read by all. I always like to have the red letters of Coin World on page 1 showing as many people think it is the racing form, because of the fact it is in tab form.

From my first edition of Coin World, a couple of years ago I knew you had a great paper. After two years I can now say that your paper is better than anything I have ever read concerning numismatics.

I know in time to come I will be collecting coins again when I have the cash to do so, and when that time comes I want you to know that I will be most happy to subscribe to Coin World again.

If I get only half of the enjoyment out of Linns Stamp Weekly as I did from Coin World I will be satisfied.

Thank you again, although you have lost a subscriber (for awhile) you have gained a long time friend who will speak the praises of Coin World anywhere, any time, and any chance I get.

George A. Fiala
Chicago, Ill.,

I agree with most of your readers when they say restored buffalo nickels are legal. However, I believe that as these coins have been restored from nothing, they should be kept in a separate album.

These coins should have a value of the piece of the same coin in About Good condition.

I believe these coins should be given a fair chance. There are many collectors who can't afford to buy expensive coins, and these coins are just the type they can use.

I, myself, have never seen this process of restoring coins, and I am asking you if you will send me information about the chemical and where I can obtain it.

Incidentally if I plan to sell them by advertisement, the advertisement will carry information stating that they are restored.

Ted Zelman

Kennedy and Lincoln Medals Still Available In Bronze

To date, all platinum and silver medals in the Presidential Art Series have been SOLD OUT.

Currently, Kennedy and Lincoln bronze medals are available at a cost of $2.50 each. The Kennedy bronze medal is the medal that President Kennedy purchased to distribute on his mission to Europe last spring.

These medals, like all medals in the series whether platinum, silver or bronze, contain unusually high STANDARDS OF WORKMANSHIP and FINE HIGH RELIEF SCULPTURING. These qualities, plus the fact that the precious medals (platinum and silver) are produced in LIMITED QUANTITIES, contribute to the increasing value of the medals.

Both the Kennedy and Lincoln medals were struck by the MEDALLIC ART COMPANY, the only American company devoted exclusively to sculptured bas-relief. The intricate design and sculpture work was done by MR. RALPH MENCONI, an internationally recognized sculptor in the field of full portrait and high relief work.

The Presidential Art Medal Series is a CONTINUING PROGRAM in which three or four medals will be struck each year until the program is complete. New models will be struck thereafter as Presidents are inaugurated.

This exclusive offering will be a treasured possession whether you desire only one or the entire series. The PRACTICAL SIZE of the medals (slightly larger than a half dollar) makes them particularly well suited to display in an album, which will be offered in early December.

Orders are filled as received. We suggest that you select and order your Presidential Medals today. Ohio residents add 3% sales tax. DEALER INQUIRIES ARE INVITED.

Washington Medal Scheduled For December

In early December, Presidential Art Medals, Inc., will introduce the George Washington medal . . . third of the series. This medal will contain the same high standards of workmanship and fine high relief sculpturing as its predecessors in the series . . . the Kennedy and Lincoln medals.

Basic Knowledge Series - Number Two

Mint Mark Locations, Variations Described

By Ed Neuce

Last week in this column we discussed the U.S. Mint, located in Philadelphia, Pa., and its many branches, most of which long ago ceased operations. The only branch of the Philadelphia Mint still in operation is the one located at Denver, Colo.

In today's column let's determine the location of Mint marks on U.S. coinage, starting with the Indian Head cent. Although Indian cents were minted from 1859 up to and including 1909, a Mint mark did not appear on this series of cents until 1908.

Indian Head cents of 1908 and 1909 are found both with and without Mint marks. If no Mint mark is found, then the coin was minted at Philadelphia. The Philadelphia Mint does not use a mark of identification, the lone exception being during the war years of 1942 to 1945.

If the coin bears an "S" Mint mark it is a product of the San Francisco branch Mint. This "S" is located on the reverse side of the coin near the bottom edge underneath the wreath. A good magnifying glass will prove helpful when searching for Mint marks, although, if the coin is in good condition the Mint mark should be easy to spot.

Moving along to the Lincoln cent series which began in 1909 and continues to the present time, we will find this coin was produced at Philadelphia, Denver and San Francisco. Mint marks, if any are all located underneath the date on the obverse (front) side of all Lincolns.

On some of the first 1909 Lincoln cents it is possible to find the initials "V.D.B." which are the initials of the Lincoln cent designer, Victor D. Brenner. These initials appear on the reverse side of some Lincoln cents near the bottom rim. They were removed from later issues of the 1909 Lincoln and it is possible to find the coin with and without initials. The initials were placed again on Lincoln cents starting with the issue of 1918 but were placed beneath the shoulder of Lincoln on the obverse side. It is necessary to use a good magnifying glass to spot the "V.D.B."

on these later coins but on the 1909 issue it is very plain.

The 1909 Lincoln bearing these initials, and minted at the Philadelphia Mint, are fairly common and do not command much premium, but the 1909 Lincoln minted at San Francisco with these initials is extremely difficult to find.

A jump from cents to nickels takes us to the Liberty head nickels of 1883 to 1912. All are without Mint marks until 1912 when Liberty nickels were struck at Philadelphia, Denver and San Francisco. These Mint marks are found on the coin's reverse side just to the left of the word "CENTS" with the Philadelphia nickel again having no mark of identification.

While discussing the Liberty head nickel it is worthwhile to note that the first year's issue, 1883, came with two different types. One does not bear the word "CENTS" on the reverse. The word "CENTS" was added later during 1883.

The Indian head or Buffalo nickel, struck from 1913 to 1938 was made also in Philadelphia, Denver and San Francisco. Mint marks are located on the reverse side beneath the words "Five Cents."

The first issue, 1913, is found in two varieties. One has the Buffalo standing on a slight mound and the other shows the Buffalo standing on level ground. Other Buffalo variations to look for include the 1918-D overdate, which has the 8 struck over a 7 in the date, and the Buffalo of 1937-D which has only three visible legs.

In looking for the above variations, remember that all coins of these two years are not alike. Normal 1918-D nickels were struck as were normal 1937-D nickels.

Our final Mint mark study of nickels is on the Jefferson series, struck from 1938 to the present. Jefferson nickels also bear Mint marks of Philadelphia, Denver and San Francisco. All Mint marks are located to the right of Monticello on the coin's reverse side, with the exception of during the war years, 1942 to and including 1945, when Mint marks were placed above Monticello to designate the change of metal. This marked the first use of a Mint mark by Philadelphia when a large "P" was used.

Mint marks on dimes are found on the reverse side and consist of no mark for Philadelphia, and "O" for New Orleans, "D" for Denver and "S" for San Francisco.

Dimes still in general circulation include the Mercury dime of 1916 to and including 1945, and the Roosevelt dime of 1945 to present.

An unusual dime to be on the lookout for is the 1942 Mercury with a 2 over a 1 of the 1941 dime. There are a great many normal 1942 dimes but only a few thousand of the overdates. A magnifying glass should be used to check all 1942 dimes.

Dimes minted prior to the above two types can be studied at leisure because they are not in circulation generally and most will have to be purchased from dealers. If you locate an earlier type, put it aside for later study.

Assuming that we now know the basic facts about the location of Mint marks, next week we will begin to assemble our first series of coins, the dime series bearing the portrait of the late president Franklin D. Roosevelt.

Springfield Plans Show

Exhibits, a two-session auction, dealers' bourse and a banquet will highlight the third Coin Show of the Clark County Coin Club of Springfield, Ohio, set for Friday, Saturday and Sunday, November 10-12, at the Hotel Shawnee in Springfield.

The auction is to be in two sections, the first on Friday evening at 7:30 o'clock, the second on Saturday afternoon, starting at 1:30. Admission will be free to the public for the auction as well as to the show in general.

Bourse tables are limited to 25, according to general chairman Everett Snapp of St. Paris, Ohio. Exhibits will include U.S. and foreign coins of all types.

The banquet is slated for Saturday evening at 6:30. D. Wayne Johnson, editor of Coin World, will be M.C.

Gettysburg Medal Third In Series

A high relief design, illustrating medallion art at its finest, will set apart the Battle of Gettysburg medal to be solely distributed by the Arlington Rare Coin Co., P. O. Box 61, Arlington, Va.

Stephen D. Ruddel, who heads the Arlington firm, said today the Battle of Gettysburg medal (1863-1963) is the third piece in the increasingly popular Civil War series of fine medals distributed by his company.

It will be struck by the Robbins Company of Massachusetts in both bronze and in pure silver, limited to 5,000 serially numbered pieces.

Prices for the Gettysburg Centennial medal will remain the same, $4 each for the bronze, and $30 each for the serially numbered silver pieces, Ruddel said.

Release date for the two and one-half inch piece will be on or about December 15.

Officers To Visit Club

The San Francisco, Calif., Coin Club will have officers and members of the Northern California Numismatic Association at its November 17 meeting, at 7:30 p.m., in lieu of a program talk and the regular auction.

This will be another area meeting to acquaint members with the N.C.N.A. and to review the organization's progress. Also, the meeting will be used for a discussion of ideas on the first N.C.N.A. Convention-Coin Show slated for the Jack Tar Hotel, Van Ness avenue at Geary street, in San Francisco on September 7 through 9, 1962.

A report from the nominating committee for 1962 officers will also be heard at the November 17 meeting. An election is set for December 15.

Copley Copies Well Marked

Copy of the unique Massachusetts Pattern Pine Tree Copper Cent.

Collectors will have an opportunity to add copies of the unique Massachusetts pine tree copper pattern cent—struck with Copley on the reverse—within the very near future, according to an announcement today from the Copley Coin Co., in Boston.

Maurice M. Gould and Frank D. Washburn, of the Copley firm, said they decided to authorize the striking because they felt many collectors would like to have them for their collections.

They used the word Copley on the reverse so that it would be impossible to sell the pieces as original coins. The pattern cent is mentioned in the colonial section of the Guide Book, unpriced. One thousand copies will be struck in bronze, and 100 in silver, according to Gould and Washburn.

The unusual Massachusetts pine tree copper is mentioned in the monumental work on colonial coins by Crosby who says:

"This probably unique piece, now in the collection of William S. Appleton, formerly owned by J. Colburn of Boston, who obtained it from Edward W. Hooper, a schoolboy collector of coins."

"Hooper purchased it from a grocer at the northerly part of the city, who found it many years before while excavating on his premises in the vicinity of Hull and Charter St., for the purpose of making an addition to his dwelling. We take this to be the first pattern for a Massachusetts cent and the characters upon the obverse to be abbreviations for 'one cent of lawful money.'"

UNITED STATES PATTERN COINS

We present a choice selection of United States pattern coins from our large stock of this series. Attributions are to "U.S. Pattern, Trial and Experimental Pieces" by Adams and Woodin, or "AW" numbers (available from us for $7.50 postpaid) and "U.S. Patterns, Experimental and Trial Pieces" by Dr. J. Hewitt Judd, "J" numbers (available from us for $10.00 postpaid). All coins are in Proof condition as issued unless stated otherwise. Satisfaction is guaranteed on all purchases. Second choices will be appreciated as items are one of a kind.

Patterns may be collected in many different ways . . . a pattern type set of different designs and denominations, year sets of patterns, Proof sets with all of the coins in aluminum or copper, etc. The collecting of pattern coins by series, however, remains the most popular way to acquire them. After all, what is more logical to add to a collection of choice regular issue cents, nickels, etc. than a representative group of patterns of the same denomination?

As we stated in our catalog of the Maj. Lenox R. Lohr collection of patterns, we are now just on the threshold of pattern collecting. The interest in pattern coins is growing by leaps and bounds as more numismatists become familiar with the pattern series and the fascination it holds. Considering the rarity and condition of the pieces, pattern prices today are very reasonable. This is especially true when the rarity of patterns is compared to the rarity and price of scarcer regular issue coins. Today's reasonable prices will become tomorrow's bargains.

Trends Of Today's U.S. Coin Values

Coin Market Is Highly Selective

By Jim Kelly

333 W. First St., Dayton 2, Ohio

The coin market continues to be very active but highly selective. By this, we mean items which are in fashion at the moment — such as commemoratives, gold and silver; early U. S. coins; Lincoln and Indian head cents, etc. — are in great demand and selling at very high prices. It seems as if everyone wants to buy things which at the moment are high on the totem pole.

Jim Kelly

Consequently, many choice and rare coins in the less popular series are selling considerably below their real value. For example, the Barber design—Liberty head dimes, quarters and half dollars from 1892 to 1916—in choice condition are actually selling for less than they were bringing five or six years ago.

This is equally true of several other U. S. series which are inactive at the present time, although in the past they have been just as popular and high priced as some of today's spectaculars.

Since this department is mainly interested in reporting prices and values which are of prime interest to so-called speculators and investors, we feel it is pertinent to call your attention to the investment possibilities of buying choice coins of some of the less popular series—or at least less popular at the moment—with the intention of holding them until they again come into fashion.

This has several advantages: first, most of these earliest coins have an established degree of rarity and the price fluctuation is due only to the likes and dislikes of the collectors, eliminating the possibility of the market being depressed by large quantities being dumped on the market.

Secondly, and of equal importance, is the fact that they make a fine collection and display which is not true of all investment material. It just might make collectors out of some of the speculators!

With this issue of Coin World, we present the long planned price trends on silver dollars in three quotation groups and from 1878 through 1935 when they were last minted. Hereafter silver dollars will appear regularly in Trends of U. S. Coin Values.

Coin Test

- 1—How many different years had over-dated coins in the half dollar before 1836?
- 2—What is the scarcest of those over-dates?
- 3—In what year were half dollars struck over several different dates?
- 4—In what year was the widest spread between the original date and the over-date?
- 5—In what year was the motto dropped from the reverse and 50 C. changed to 50 Cents?

She received an LLB degree at the Washington College of Law of American University, Washington, D. C., in 1950, later receiving her Master's Degree in law from George Washington University there.

A member of the Nevada and District of Columbia bars, she was admitted to practice before the U. S. Supreme Court in 1954.

Upon the death of Senator McCarran in 1954, she served as administrative assistant to Senator Ernest Brown for several months before Senator Bible assumed office in December 1954.

She holds memberships in the American Bar Association, Federal Communications Bar, the American Judicature Society and the Federal Bar Association in Washington. She served two terms as President of the Senate Administrative Assistants' Association.

Nevada organizational memberships include Kappa Alpha Theta, Phi Kappa Phi, Business and Professional Women, the Nevada Mining Association, Soroptimists International and Executive's Club of Reno. Honorary memberships include the National Secretaries Association of Las Vegas and the American Association of Airport Executives. She serves on the Board of Managers of the Graham-Eckes School in Palm Beach, Florida.

A sister, Mrs. Dave Herstine, lives in Reno.

Miss Adams joins an illustrious parade of directors of the mint.

Groups Merge To Hold Exhibit

The Coin and Stamp Divisions, which hold separate meetings, of the Greenwich, Conn., Stamp and Coin Club have combined once more to stage their annual week-long competitive Stamp and Coin Exhibit at the Bruce Museum in Greenwich, from November 12 through November 19.

Cash awards will be presented to the winners, and certificates to all participants, according to a report from vice president Martin G. Kidney, of Cos Cob.

Chautauque Club To Hold Auction

The Chautauque Coin, Stamp and Curio Club of Jamestown, N.Y., will hold a coin auction at the Senior Citizens' Center at Jamestown on November 15, according to a recent report.

A nominating committee will be appointed at this time to select a slate of officer candidates for the coming year, the report said.

each one commemorated on a special Director of the Mint medal. Soon she will have a medal struck for her, following the custom of striking a medal in honor of the new appointee. Numismatists will have the opportunity of buying the medal.

Past directors include: David Rittenhouse, Robert M. Patterson, J. Ross Snowden, James Pollock, Henry R. Linderman, Horatio C. Burchard, James P. Kimball, Edward O. Leech, Robert E. Preston, George E. Roberts.

F. J. H. vonEngelken, Robert W. Woolley, Raymond T. Baker, F. E. Scobey, R. J. Grant, Nellie Tayloe Ross and William H. Brett.

U.S. Not Inscribed

1776 Massachusetts Pattern Cent

We have just struck copies of the unique Massachusetts Pattern Cent of 1776, which is pictured in the Guide Book. We have never seen an electro or copy of this coin. The word "Copley" is struck in small letters on the copy and the piece was struck by the Robbins & Co. of Attleboro, Mass.

A thousand were struck in bronze and one hundred in silver.

A card with the history of this coin will be furnished to all purchasers.

Cenla Club Auction, Show November 19

Exhibits, auction and dealers' bourse will feature the one-day coin show to be put on by the Cenla Coin Club of Alexandria, La., on Sunday, November 19, at the Community Center, Bolton Avenue in Alexandria from 9 a.m. on.

Exhibits will be competitive, with prizes to be awarded for the best. In charge are H. W. Parshall, James Justis and James Rogers. Winners will be announced by 5 p.m. when the auction opens.

Only 65 lots are allowed for the auction, with a minimum value of $1 Red Book. Bill Rollo is auction chairman.

Bourse tables are $3, with a limited number available on a first come, first served basis. In charge is S. M. Fartherree, P.O. Box 4004, Alexandria.

Special events include awards to be given out during the auction, and free coffee throughout the day, according to general chairman Fartherree. Slides from the A.N.A. will also be shown.

Since the Cenla Club was host to the first State Convention and Show last July, it is expected that the interest sparked by that event will be carried over to this show on November 19.

Re-engraved Coins Topic

H. H. Adams spoke on the subject of re-engraved coins at the October meeting of the Blanchard Valley Coin Club, Findlay, Ohio, it was reported by Robert E. Bowman, publicity chairman.

Bowman said that more than 30 members participated in an auction which followed the meeting.

The next meeting of the Findlay group will be at 8 p.m., at the I.A.M. building on November 21. The seventh regular auction will be held at this meeting, with H. H. Edens as auctioneer, and Lowell Dorsey as clerk.

Members Give Talks At Meeting

Short talks by club members were features of the October meeting of the Monterey Peninsula Coin Club, Monterey, Calif., with five members participating.

A trading session followed the program.

ATLANTA 1, GA.Kampeska
Club Formed
In Watertown

Wednesday, November 15, has been set for the next meeting of the newly organized Kampeska Coin Club of Watertown, S. D., to be held in the Community room of the First Federal Savings and Loan Company, starting at 7:30 p.m., according to recently elected secretary Edwin Kampen.

Permanent officers had been chosen at the October session at which time the club was formally organized with 20 charter members. In addition to Kampen, the officers comprise Ed Skovly, president; Arlo Brenden, vice president, and Anita M. Mehlberg, treasurer.

The 1962 leaders succeeded temporary officers elected at a previous meeting, who included Clarice Hearn as chairman, Anita Mehlberg as vice chairman, and Kampen as secretary-treasurer.

Kampen invites secretaries of other coin clubs to send him suggestions regarding programs and other club activities. (Editor's Note: Coin World will be glad to forward any letters addressed to him in care of this paper.)

Joy Parrish
Guest Speaker

Members of the Compton, Calif., Coin Club will nominate 1962 officers and hear Mrs. Joy Parrish, nationally known medal collector, speak on her specialty, at their next meeting, set for Wednesday, November 15, in their new home, the Lueders Park Recreation Center, Rosecrans and Temple Streets, in Compton, at 8 p.m.

Organized last winter, the club closed its charter membership list in October, at 82, representing 15 area communities, according to secretary Eileen Lawson. It had been meeting temporarily in the Compton Community Center, pending completion of the Lueders Park Center.

Current officers include Blaine Milliron, president; James Alter, vice president; Frank Randall, treasurer, and secretary Lawson.

3c NICKELS

My personal set, all choice proofs but the 1865. I assembled this scarce set coin by coin, and I'm proud to show it. No other series of coins is of lower general mintage than the 3c silver and nickel. Frankly, this set could be the finest and most substantial investment in coins today at any price. Mounted in white plastic, of course.

Ashland Show Winter Event

The Ashland, Ohio, Coin Show has been scheduled for February 3 and 4 at the Ashland Terrace Hotel, 235 East Washington street, in cooperation with the Quad-City Coin Clubs, according to a recent announcement by Esther N. Oyster, secretary of the Ashland Stamp and Coin Club.

Show officials include co-chairmen, T. T. Moore, auction, and

R. R. Bennighof, bourse. All inquiries should be directed to the Ashland Stamp and Coin Club or to the co-chairmen at P.O. Box 124, Ashland.

Leo M. Thomas is president of the Ashland club, which is now in its 18th year. Meetings are held on the third Tuesday of each month in the assembly room of the Production Credit Association building.

Campus Meeting Site

Coin collectors in Las Cruces, N. M., met recently on the New Mexico State University campus to form a coin club. Information regarding future meetings may be obtained from Frank Hansen at Jerries Hobbies in Las Cruces.

Open Session Held

The Augusta, Ga., Coin Club met recently in the Civic Room of the First Federal Buildings. The meeting was open to all persons interested in coin collecting as a hobby.

Vinita Show Free To Public

Collectors of the Vinita, Okla., area are staging a Coin and Gun Show in that city on November 11 and 12, at the Armory Building, 815 Wilson street, according to an announcement by Detlev Justus, show chairman.

Admission to the show is free, Justus advised, but all children must be chaperoned. He reports plenty of tables are available for dealers at $4 for the two days.

For additional information contact Justus, or Joe Hanes, in care of Vinita Coin and Gun Show, 222 S. Wilson, Vinita.

FOLKS...

I finally have seen the introduction Ed wrote for last week's ad. Maybe he should do them all — WOW! Anyway, we are a couple of fat, healthy looking comedians.

Look over my Lincoln cent selling list. I've dropped my G and VG prices in order to thin my stock down. This doesn't mean I don't want to buy more, though. Also, I find one or two of the really tough VF and XF Buffaloes here and there and am adding them.

Investors, a word of advice—Most roll dealers have dropped their prices recently, due to a seasonal slump. Now seems a real good time to buy.

Best,
Shotgun

P.S.—The new daughter is Elizabeth Patton (Lisa). My sincere thanks to all of you who have written in congratulations. But she's a redhead, like my wife.

NOTE

Any good Buffalo I buy or sell must show a full 4 digit date. Similarly, all VF coins must show full horn. EF coins should show only a trace of wear on top of Buffalo's hip bone. I will ship properly graded coins, and will only buy just that. Do not ship restored date nickels to me.
I have jumped my buying and selling prices on VF and EF coins because I sincerely feel this is what should be. I do not want to buy any Buffaloes without full dates except the 1913-S II.

President George W. Olinger (center) receives for the Gettysburg Numismatic Society the first cast sterling silver medal commemorating the battle of Gettysburg from the artists, Duane W. Eichholz (left) and Norman L. Annis. The Gettysburg Numismatic Society sponsors this official issue which will be limited to 3,500 silver medals. Olinger said: We are proud to accept this medal as a work of art and a fine example of the medalist's craft. It could be no less, for it honors the greatest battle of the Civil War."

Lost-Wax Process For Gettysburg Medals

A limited edition of 3,500 serially numbered sterling silver medals, to be cast by the lost-wax process, to commemorate the battle of Gettysburg, is a project of the Gettysburg Numismatic Society, a result of their activities through the past year in preparation for the centennial year of the historic Civil War medal.

The Society was recently presented with serial No. 1 of the official issue.

The Gettysburg Cast Medals, 1 West Street, Gettysburg, Pa., is executing the medals.

"For those who appreciate a medal as a work of art, this will be a treasured and increasingly valued possession," said a spokesman for the club.

He said the medals will be two and seven-sixteenths inches in diameter with a quarter inch thickness.

A descriptive brochure will accompany each medal, relating how lost wax casting is the method used for producing many of and is the time-honored technique for transferring sculpture from the model to bronze or precious the finest renaissance medals.

In this process each medal requires individual attention through the many steps from modeling the was to hand-finishing the silver.

The obverse of the medal, designed by Duane W. Eichholz, depicts the Book of Time at the High Water Mark monument as it can be seen today on the Gettysburg battlefield. It stands near the Copse of Trees which marked the center of the Union lines. It was toward these trees that Pickett's troops charged on the afternoon of July 3, 1863. The background shows Little Round Top and Big Round Top. These are high points on the battlefield around which action was centered earlier in the battle.

ate troops of North and South at the end of Pickett's Charge. The waving banner of the South has not yet fallen at the muzzle of the Northern gun.

On the battlefield a small monument now marks the farthest advance of the Confederate charge. This point is only a few feet away from the Copse of Trees.

There will be 25 pure platinum medals available; prices will be furnished on request.

The sterling medals at $35 will be delivered in the order in which reservations are received.

Show Report For Kansans

Reports on its recent Coin Show in Neodesha, Kansas, are expected to be made at the next meeting of the Independence, Kansas, Coin Club to be held Monday, November 13, at the Independence Y.W.C.A., starting at 7:30 p.m.

In order to create interest in coin collecting in southeastern Kansas, the Independence club is holding shows and sales in various towns of the area, the Neodesha event being the latest.

Exhibits, bourse and an auction were included on the program which was held over an afternoon and evening. Exhibitors included Billie Richardson, L. E. Losey, Dwayne Wright, Mrs. Anny Dubbles and W. R. Naff of Independence; George Bailey, Moline; Billy Jones, Oswego; Ray R. Biswell, Coffeyville, and C. A. Boster, Neodesha.

Naff and Bailey conducted the auction which was reported a success with active bidding, according to L. E. Losey, Independence club president.

Slippage Blamed For Rotated Reverses 'Series'

Under unfinished business, another report on a 1920-D dime with rotated reverse, this one from Clary Clover, Muskegon, Mich., who writes that he has a duplicate of the one pictured here in the October 6 issue, owned by Marjorie Joye.

COMMENT: These rotated reverses, which could be called rotated obverses just as well but are not, are usually caused by slippage of the die in its fastening. There should not be many coins with identical rotation because either the die would keep slipping, or it would be corrected.

However, it is entirely possible that the reverse die might be tightened that way accidentally, in which case quite a few coins might be pressed before the mistake was caught. Or something might have stopped the slippage at a given point, with the same result. If a number of these 1920-D dimes are rotated to the same degree, then one of those two things must have happened.

Judging by the number of letters that come in, rotated reverses are being spotted more and more frequently as people look closer at their coins. These errors are not uncommon. We suggest that any collector who has a series in a holder with both sides transparent, make sure that all the obverses line up, then turn the holder over and look at the reverses.

If there is not at least one coin in any series that does not quite line up on the reverse, we would be surprised.

Kolman says that it was quite common in the half-cent series and in early Indian cents, which should be an answer to a number of inquiries about rotated reverses in that series. He does say that improved methods at the Mint have made the error much rarer in modern series, which would apply to the Mercury dimes that started this off. He does not give any of them much more value than a coin of the same date and grade with a normal reverse, but that would depend on who wants such an error and how badly, which determines all values anyhow.

Nick M. DiDonato of Euclid, Ohio, sends in a report that should put the Mint error collectors to looking at their older coins. In going through a roll of uncirculated 1953-D Lincolns, he spotted a double "D" like the 1960 doubles that have been so much in print lately. His "find" was verified by an officer of the Northeast Ohio Coin Club, he says.

COMMENT: We have printed a good many items about these doubled Mint marks, as well as double-struck dates and so on, mostly because a lot of people write in about them and because variations from the normal on coins are interesting even to those who don't collect such things.

Several causes exist for small deviations of this kind. In the Mint mark, the majority are caused by the die-punch being operated by hand and hence subject to such human error as a slight shift between two or more strokes of the punch on the working die.

Errors in the date where the whole date is affected can be from re-cutting of the die or from a double strike where the coin has shifted slightly in the collar or from filled dies or worn ones, depending on the type of error concerned.

Where one or two digits are affected, then the probable causes are re-cutting, or metal "leakage" if pressure is uneven or if there is a worn or damaged place on the die through which the metal could leak. A double strike could not affect only part of a date. That would be as close to impossible as anything can be.

In the case of the last digit being out of line, such as the slanting "1" that has been reported a number of times, the most frequent cause is die "suction" when the two dies separate after the "strike". The metal is still soft and can be "sucked" out of position.

Of course there are many more kinds of Mint errors, some caused by die defects, some by mechanical mistakes, some by human action. All of them bear witness to the fact that "Murphy's Law", like rain, affects both the just and the unjust. For those readers not familiar with that law, it is "If a mistake can happen, it will".

Cutting back for a moment to the first item, on rotated reverses, Mrs. P. B. Hankins, Danville, Va., reports a 1941-S with a completely rotated or 180 degree reverse. She says:

"I don't know whether you want to be bothered with mail or not, but I don't know who to write to about my find".

COMMENT: Please be assured that getting mail is not a "bother". We like it and welcome it, even though answers may be a long time coming, and you wrote to the right place. As for the dime, see the reply to Clary Clover at the start of this column.

Milt Wynn, Louisville, Ky., writes in with another 1953-D Lincoln with double "D" like Nick DiDonato's, but adds a different item. We quote:

"I have also found one double-struck 1960-D cent on which Lincoln's nose, chin and neck and the 196 are doubled. The "D" and "O" are not. What can you tell me about it?"

ANSWER: This sounds not like a double strike but like a re-cut die, or perhaps the metal leakage referred to above, but the re-engraving is more likely. Of course, in a double strike, the second impression erases most of the first impression, but it would be difficult to visualize the combination you mention being from that cause.

When a die is re-cut, some of the original cutting remains, especially if the job is done hastily, and will show up on the coin as a "doubled" appearance.

The picture and item we ran in this column on October 6 of the "rotated die" Mercury dime has brought in reports of two more, one of them, owned by Chester M. Zeff, Berkeley, Calif., is the same as Marjorie Joye's. The other, owned by Charles Frank, Brooklyn, N. Y., is rotated exactly opposite, 90 degrees in the other direction. He sent in a "mirror" picture to prove it. Both want to know the rarity of these coins and whom to ask.

ANSWER: Students of the Mercury dime should take note of these reports and add them to their statistics. This type of error is supposed to be fairly rare in modern coinage, but we don't know how rare. We are sending the question on to Charles Schermerhorn, and will print his answer when he can make one. As an "Error" expert his mail piles up, too.

More about proof set "errors": Edward J. Damrotowski of Chicago reports 1961 proof sets with double struck "Liberty" and motto on the half dollar. He found five such in one shipment. He has other sets that are normal, and wants to know if others have been reported.

ANSWER: So far as we can recall, yours is the first such report. If you want to stir up some interest, why don't you take one of your sets to one of the several Chicago area coin clubs and show it around?

Peter S. Morrison, St. Petersburg Beach, Fla., reports some "finds". One is a 1926-S quarter in F-VF, from a bank-wrapped roll, the other, a 1938-D half dollar in VG, at the same bank. He says both are scarce ones.

COMMENT: Peter is right, in that neither are found every day, and are among the lower mintage coins. It is our theory, and we have practiced it, that bank-wrapped rolls of quarters and half dollars are good places to look, if only because not many people do. We have found some pretty nice ones that way as well as a few pre-1925 Standing Liberty quarters. Good hunting, Peter!

Mrs. David M. Harris of Daytona Beach, Fla., comes up with a die defect of a different color than those we have mentioned most frequently. She reports a die crack on an 1880 $5 gold piece. It runs from the top of "E" in "Five" across the top of the "D" and past the last "A" in America to the rim. She wants to know if it is scarce.

ANSWER: We will pass the buck on that question, and hope an expert on gold coins will write in with information. Our guess is "Yes".

A collector in Antonito, Colo., writes that after reading about all the double strikes found by other people, he looked over his own collection and spotted a double strike date on his 1864-L Indian. He wants it added to the "quantity known".

COMMENT: You have just given two reasons why these items are printed, among others; so that other collectors may know what they can look for if they want, and so that the experts who study such things may add up the reports and get an idea of how many exist. Thanks.

A lady in Massachusetts, West Boylston, who prefers to remain unnamed, writes as follows:

"So much is written about 'micro S', that it has made me want to study coins more closely. I found small and large 'S' on the Walking Liberty half dollar of 1942. Among three such coins, I have two large 'S' and one small. Has this been noticed elsewhere?"

ANSWER: We believe it has, but that does not lessen the importance of your report for the reasons given directly above. Every such item reported adds to the sum total of knowledge about a given series. Thank you.

In reference to the proof error pictured on page 33 of the October 20 issue of Coin World, two other collectors have noted the same thing.

Chester J. Bentley Jr., president of the Central Indiana Collectors Club of Noblesville, reported his was received in August; and Dorothy Feuerstein, Upper Sandusky, Ohio, reports three sets out of her five 1961's also have it. She did not say when she got them, but wonders how many other people also have the error.

Election Scheduled For El Paso Group

Election of 1962 officers is expected to feature the Tuesday, November 14, meeting of the El Paso, Texas, Numismatic Association, to be held in the Reddy Room of the El Paso Electric Company at 7:30 p.m., according to secretary C. J. Rabe.

Following their election, the new officers are to be installed at the December session which will take the form of an installation dinner.

Plan Exhibition

The Greenwich, N. Y., Stamp and Coin Club met recently to discuss plans for the annual exhibition to be held this month. Exact date of the exhibition was not announced.

Ohio Club Plans Show

Members of the Koneta Koin Klub of Wapakoneta, Ohio, were slated to hold a fried chicken supper on Sunday, November 5, according to a report from secretary Edward E. Reier of "Wapak".

Future plans for the club include a coin show scheduled for Sunday, January 14, and installation of officers in the same month, following December election.

The Koneta Koin Klub meets every other Thursday in the City Log Cabin, 934 West Auglaize, starting at 8 p.m. Officers, in addition to Reier include:

Pennsylvanians Exhibit At Annual Dinner Of Society

In keeping with their slogan, "A Collector Who Joins, Should Display His Coins," nine members of the Western Pennsylvania Numismatic Society presented exhibits during the 83rd annual dinner meeting of that group recently at Pittsburgh, Pa.

Another highlight of the meeting was a talk by Jack Kennedy, who spoke on "English Coins and Designers." His discussion of mint marks and symbols on the early English coins was reported to be very interesting by Dr. Robert J. Hudson, secretary-treasurer.

Exhibits included the following: Harry Bartley, unusual and beautiful Belgium railroad medal inaugurating the Binche Railroad, Jack Burns, crowns of Mexico and Peru; Ray Byrne, rare unreported two sous six deniers Isles du Vent (Windward Islands) coin in copper, also counter-stamped coins of the West Indies.

Gordon Dodrill, 92 beautiful crowns of the world; Richard Foley, rare Bermuda communion token of St. Paul's College and a one-half cent side view token of the Bank of Montreal; M. Goody, U.S. pattern cent 1863-1877; Robert J. Hudson, seven Vatican crowns; Jack Kennedy, English coins including nine English patterns; and J. Sloss, a beautiful unique set of Panama Pacific dollars and a set of U.S. pattern cents of 1863-1864 in copper-nickel, brass, aluminum and copper.

Founded in 1878, the Pittsburgh group is one of the oldest coin collectors' clubs in the United States.

Scott Speaks At Civitan Club

John W. Scott, who operates a coin shop at Sarasota, Fla., recently outlined some of the coins in his collection at a meeting of the Sarasota Civitan Club.

Scott specializes in Canadian coins, but also has a collection of coinage from many other countries, including the U.S.

Stralko Heads Oil Creek Club

Headed by Edward J. Stralko who had been re-elected president, newly chosen officers of the Oil Creek Coin Club of Oil City, Pa., took over leadership of the club last Sunday, November 5, the first session after their election.

Besides Stralko, the officers comprise Mrs. Clarence Frank, vice president, and Joe Fox Jr., secretary-treasurer.

COMPLETE SETS IN WHITMAN FOLDERS

1937—1956 FARTHINGS, VF-Unc.	$ 2.25
10 sets for dealer's stock	20.75
1902—1936 FARTHINGS, Fine-EF	9.75
1860 to 1956 FARTHINGS, a complete set in three Whitman folders. Fine to Unc. For the collector who wants the very best	$125.00

1956 SPECIAL

I have a small number of the very scarce 1956 farthings in BU condition. Only 1,996,800 were made and not many survived melting. Lowest-mintage farthings in over 50 years, and last year of issue! While they last, I offer a group of 5 pieces, BU for, $4.50

1953 MINT SEALED CORONATION SETS

Each set contains 9 coins, from the half-crown down to the farthing. Brilliant Uncirculated, in the original celluloid Royal Mint package. Each set has the rare 1953 penny, which was not released into circulation. The 1953 penny is the last year of issue — and will be a ten dollar coin in two years.

A popular set at $ 5.50
While they last,
10 sets for $25.50

Mixed English Silver Coins

I have a quantity of English silver coins from the sixpence to the crown. At least half are dated before 1899, and many go back much further. As the catalogue properly notes, the British Government is withdrawing all silver coins from circulation and melting them. I am selling mixed lots for three times the face value.

So send $5.00, $10.00, $25.00, $50.00, $100.00, or whatever you'd like to spend, and you will receive a very nice lot of English silver coins. Satisfaction guaranteed. (Remember that 20 shillings equals $2.80.)

Trends Of Today's Canadian Coin Values

Type Sets Are Easy Way To Start

By J. E. Charlton
80 Richmond Street, East
Toronto 1, Ont., Canada

An interesting and inexpensive way to collect Canadian coins is by types. A type set consists of a coin of each denomination of each of the five reigns of kings or queens of England, in most cases, plus a few extras such as the 20c piece of 1858, a one year issue; both the small and large 1c and 5c pieces of George V; the commemorative nickel of 1951 and the commemorative silver dollars.

Such a set is not difficult to assemble as common dates may be used. The set makes a very attractive display.

To make it easier for collectors, a Whitman folder is available for a Canadian type set, and this provides not only housing for the collection but is also a guide to the coins required.

LARGE CENTS

NOTE: Large Cents in Br. Unc. seldom obtainable and command a premium of 50 per cent to 75 per cent over Unc. prices.

Wooden Nickels Buy A Lot!

Salvation Army Stages Novel Fair For Youngsters

Young members of the Watertown, N. Y., Salvation Army Sunday School no longer believe in the old saying, "Don't take any wooden nickels." They have found that wooden nickels are worth something, thanks to the efforts of their commanding officers, Brigadier and Mrs. George N. Simons.

Recently Brigadier Simons, with the help of his Sunday School staff, decided to conduct a "Wooden Nickel Contest." To make the contest a success with the young people it was decided to end the contest with a Wooden Nickel Fair where the youngsters could spend their wooden nickels.

To obtain the nickels, all the youngsters had to do was attend Sunday School every Sunday during a 10-week period and receive a wooden nickel each week. They were given an additional nickel each week if they attended Y.P.L. (Sunday evening youth meeting) planned and conducted entirely by the young Salvation Army members.

The date for the Fair was set before the contest even started so that the young people would have something to really work for. Games of all sorts were set up around the junior hall (Sunday school assembly room) including bowling, darts, balloons, ring toss, skill games, weight guess corner, prize table, guess jar of 1960 sm "d" cents, etc. In another room was the Wooden Nickel Restaurant.

One wooden nickel bought the following: one each hot dog, hamburger, cake, soft drink, ice cream. One nine-year-old stated, "I never knew a nickel would buy so much, especially a wooden one!" A special Treasure Chest, with prizes for all ages, was used for those with the full quota of nickels.

The Wooden Nickel Fair check-in-table, prize table, and games was under the direction of local officers including bandmaster Al Austin, treasurer, Charles Crump, Y.P. bandleader William Simons (ANA 22187), and the Corps Cadets Frank Rutledge, Jack and Jim Dingman and Charles Crump Jr.

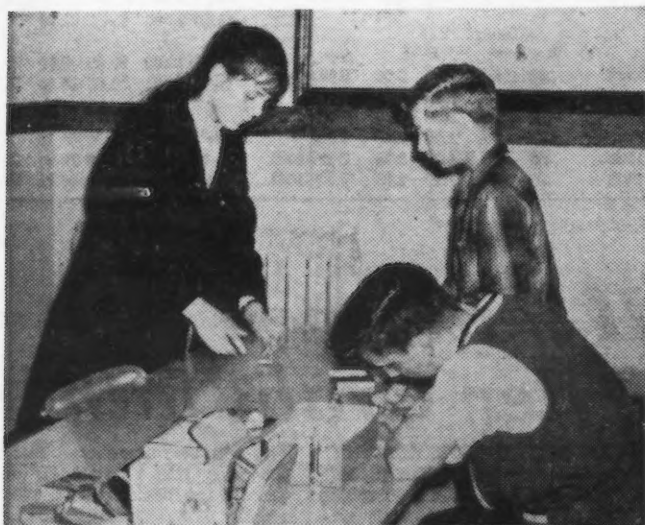

The cooks for the occasion were

Brigadier and Mrs. Simons, with girls from the torchbearer group serving as waitresses, along with some of the lady Sunday School teachers.

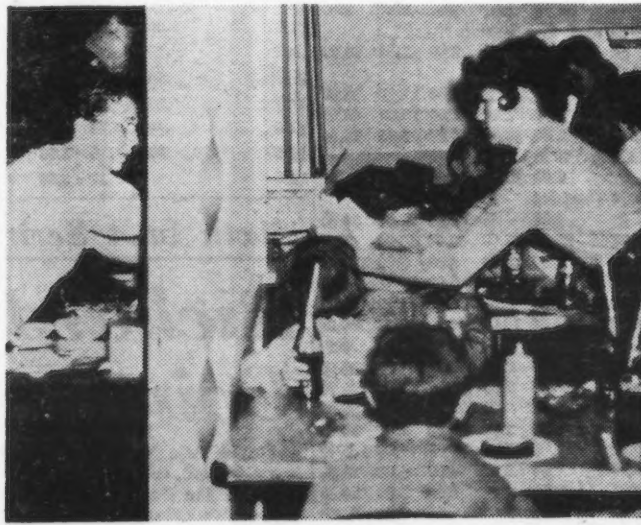

Over 3,000 wooden nickels were spent at this great Wooden Nickel Fair. It was something new...it was something the "kids" will remember for a long time—but most important of all...it was something "worth while." The offering of wooden nickels started some young folks that had not been to Sunday School for a long time to come back (and now they are regular again) and also brought in quite a few new youngsters that had never been to church in their lives.

"The early birds" wait in line to have their wooden nickels checked at the Salvation Army Wooden Nickel Fair at Watertown, N.Y.

Corps cadets Frank H. Rutledge and James Dingman are shown checking in wooden nickels received during contest by Sunday School member Violet Kaler. Due to wooden nickels being used for various other advertising uses, all nickels used at the Watertown Wooden Nickel Fair were checked and stamped with special stamp. Frank and Jim are members of the Northern New York Coin Club.

Brigadier and Mrs. George N. Simons, commanding officers of the Salvation Army Citadel, Watertown, N. Y., were "cooks" for the recent Sunday School Wooden Nickel Fair. Here Mrs. Simons passes hot dogs to one of the waitresses, Kandl Fee, while some of the youngsters look on. Brigadier Simons is a member of the American Numismatic Association, and the Northern New York Coin Club.

Youngsters attending the Watertown, N. Y. Salvation Army Wooden Nickel Fair enjoyed hamburgers, hot dogs, cake and soft drinks, all bought with one wooden nickel. Teenage girls are members of the Torchbearer Club of the Salvation Army, and were waitresses during the fair.

"Want something new for your church Sunday school or other youth activities? Try This Idea!" urges the Watertown group.

Van Wert To Hold Auction

Final plans for its annual "November Sunday Auction" are expected to be announced at the next meeting of the Van Wert, Ohio, Coin Club, slated for Wednesday, November 15, at the V. F. W. Hall, 111 North Shannon Street, at 7:30 p.m.

The auction is set for Sunday, November 19, at the same place, starting at 2 p.m., with close to 200 lots to be offered. Doors will open at 12:30 p.m. A bourse will be conducted from that time until the start of the auction.

Persons interested in obtaining bourse tables may contact Paul Marvin, 927 Hughes Street, Van Wert, Ohio.

Material for the auction was brought to the October meeting of the club. At that session, the main speaker was scheduled to be Dr. Maurice Forwalter, according to secretary Richard L. Miller.

Rhode Island Show At Foster

An exhibit of coins and old paper currency attracted 175 persons to a recent meeting of the Western Rhode Island Stamp and Coin Association in the Grange Hall at Foster, R. I.

Featured was a display of original Confederate bills and the coin collection of Lloyd Stubbs Jr. of Pascoag, R. I.

A talk on early United States proof coins was being planned for the November 8 meeting.

THOUSANDS OF USERS

ECONOMICAL
ACTUALLY CLEANS IN SECONDS

Useful for cleaning all kinds of coins, but particularly adapted to cleaning coins of copper or nickel.

Does not add shine but brings out natural color, including original brilliance if it is still there under tarnish or coating. Tarnish vanishes and dull or dark uncleaned coins become brilliant uncleaned coins. It does this in seconds. You will be amazed.

This product, the result of years of experiment, can be used safely on valuable coins to improve their appearance and increase their value.

On sale in many leading stores in 4-oz. bottles, with full directions, at $1.00.

If your dealer does not yet have it, send us $1.00 for a 3-oz. bottle (enough to clean hundreds of coins), carefully packed, unbreakable bottle, postpaid to any address in the U.S. or Canada.

The appearance of worn coins, large cents, small cents, etc., can be greatly improved by "highlighting", (contrasting light and dark). Use the Victory Miracle Cloth for this only 50c postpaid.

SPECIAL OFFER TO DEALERS

We want you to try "CCC" on your counter. It Sells! Send $4.00 for six 4-oz. bottles (postpaid in the U.S.).

Redding Club Unique; Only One In Area

Coin collectors within 100 miles of Redding, Calif., are invited to attend the next meeting of the Redding Numismatic Society, slated for Monday, November 13, in the First Methodist Church recreation hall, South Street at East, in Redding, starting at 7:30 p.m.

That distance is specific as there is no other club within that radius, according to Mrs. Donna Lee Toenjes, secretary. The nearest club to the south is at Oroville, more than 100 miles away. Somewhere in Oregon, even further, is the closest club to the north, to the west is the Pacific Ocean, and to the east lie the Cascades with hundreds of miles beyond to the closest club.

Organized last May, the Redding club has 69 members of all ages, and welcomes all collectors in its "territory" to visit or join.

One feature of the club's activities is the appraising of coins for non-collectors. It invites anyone to write to the club's post office box regarding coins, but not to send the coins, and arrangements will be made to evaluate them.

Collectors in that area who are too distant to attend meetings but who wish to affiliate with a club, may write box 1831, Redding, for information on membership.

W. H. ROBERSON2713 Vanderbilt Ave.
Raleigh, N. C.Big Spring Coin Club
Proud Of Versatile Members

When the charter member roll was closed on May 1 of this year, the Big Spring, Texas, Coin Club had 54 members on the list. In the few months since that time the membership has increased at about seven new members each meeting, and at last report was standing just below the 100-mark with 98 members.

Membership is of all ages and both sexes. There are many youngsters, some as young as nine years, who can talk glibly of the hobby and explain without hesitation they are hunting certain mint-marked rarities in the world of coins. They will describe exactly the coins they seek and quote the current catalogue price of each.

Dale Smith, who is one of the most avid collectors in the Big Spring area, is president of the club. Vernon Wichester is vice president. A. H. Yeager is treasurer and Joe Maenner, secretary.

Several of the members are owners of impressive collections. Most of the members are collectors of U. S. coins exclusively. However, others go in for both U. S. and Canadian and a few are foreign coin collectors.

In addition to members, there are usually five or six coin dealers on hand at each meeting.

A large number of the members attended the recent district convention of numismatists in Odessa. They bought many coins, sold some of their duplicates and had a big time talking shop with other collectors from throughout Texas.

Anyone interested in coin collecting is welcome to attend any meeting of the club and to affiliate with it if he or she desires. Dues are $2 a year for adults, and 50 cents a year for Junior members.

The Big Spring Herald recently dispatched a reporter to cover a meeting of the club recently. This is what he wrote about the meeting:

"The widespread interest in coin collecting manifests itself on every hand. It is a very common spectacle to see a staid citizen, his hands full of pennies, painstakingly studying each individual coin. He is looking for certain dates and specific mint marks he needs to fill out his complete display of pennies.

"They are numismatists, if you please, individuals who collect rare coins as other people collect stamps, art masterpieces, antiques or old automobiles.

"They identify themselves not as money collectors but as coin collectors. There is a difference, they emphasize, in collecting as they do and the efforts the rest of us make to collect money.

Dealer Cooperative

Jack Mankoff, dealer in rare coins, located at 407 Washington Street, Dedham, Mass., has an added service for his clientele. If they can't visit him at his new store, he'll visit them.

Bankhoff recently opened the coin and gun shop at the Dedham address.

Get Out, Get Interested

Juniors Should Attend Meetings Of Local Club

One of the biggest mistakes made by the Junior collector, and by most beginning collectors, is the mistake of not attending meetings of the local coin club if such an opportunity exists.

Most newcomers are hesitant to mingle with other collectors simply because they feel that other collectors will laugh at their inexperience. This is not true! On the contrary, the majority of coin club members welcome the opportunity to assist the new collector.

Others hesitate because their collection is "just a small one." Well, isn't it a fact that all collections started in a small way? The size of a collection is not the most important thing in our hobby, nor is the value of a collection so important, either.

Take pride in what you have, be it a complete set of Indian cents, a partial set of Lincoln cents or just a few coins from here and there.

And...believe it or not, your home town club consists mainly of about 95 per cent beginners...trying in the best way they know how to complete, or at least add to their collections.

These club meetings not only give them a chance to buy and sell coins, but also serve as a swapping center where they can trade their duplicate coins with other members.

No, you will not be laughed at, nor is your collection too small. The newcomer, the Junior, the advanced collector, they are all as one when the president calls "the meeting will come to order!"

If your hometown remains among the few that has no coin club, then look back in the November 3 (last week) issue of Coin World, and find the column on organizing a coin club, and, then... get the show on the road!"

An announcement from Bonner Springs, Kan., reveals that Boy Scout Troop 41, now in their 16th year, recently held a "Court of Honor" at the First Christian Church, and presented the Scout Merit Badge for coin collecting to Maurice Chandley. Our congratulations to this Junior!

James Scharville, who is president of the Junior Coin Club of Sharon, Pa., recently became the 1,000th member of the Shenango Valley Coin Club of Sharon. Tom Zager is secretary of the Junior club at Sharon.

Pamela A. Johnson, 13, of Auburn, Mass., was selected as "Happy Timer" by the Worcester, Mass., Telegram, and featured in an article appearing in that newspaper.

Pam not only collects coins, but also collects sea shells horse statues, and stamps. She attends eighth grade at Auburn Junior High School.

In addition to his hobby of coin collecting, Harold "Skip" Waser, a senior at Kenmore High School, Akron, Ohio, also finds time to fill the post of president of the school band, and take part in the school's musical programs. The young collector is a member of National Honor Society.

Two new school coin clubs have been announced. One at the Chisholm Junior High School in Newton, Kan., and the other at the Alderice High School in Pittsburgh, Pa.

Officers for the Kansas club are Dick Seagraves, president; Terry Breitenstein, vice president. The group meets during the noon hour on the first Monday of each month. Miss Grace Starlin is the club sponsor.

Approximately 30 students attended the first meeting of the Pittsburgh group. As yet no officers have been elected for the Alderice club.

This writer would like to hear from both of these coin clubs... often! Also, would like to have letters from other Junior coin groups and individuals.

Special for Juniors who are still undecided about becoming a coin collector...

Robert Kunis, 14, of Teaneck, N.Y., recently took $20 from his $35 savings and hopefully carried home 20 silver dollars from the local bank. Among the coins he found 18 Peace dollars of 1928.

Back he went for more coins; this time, 11 of them were valuable. Next time his parents subsidized him in this happy case. By the time Robert had exhausted the bank's supply of silver dollars he had 36 coins of the kind and condition he had hoped for.

For the $36, a dealer waved a certified check for $450 in front of the youngster's nose.

Junior Finds Scarce Cent

Mary Ann Boretsky, 13, of Coaldale, Pa., studies her double struck 1955 Lincoln cent she discovered while checking change. Sorting through change has been a favorite routine for the Coaldale High School student since she became interested in coin collecting about three years ago.

Children Make Exciting Find

Three young Cambridge, Md., boys went exploring in an unoccupied first-floor rear office in an old building on High Street in Cambridge, and uncovered more than $5,000 worth of old coins and currency, including several $100 and $50 gold certificates.

The youngsters, aged 12, 13 and 15, found a lot of cardboard boxes stacked against one of the walls. They started rummaging in the boxes.

To their amazement, a $100 bill fluttered to the floor from one of cartons. It was an old-fashioned, oversize bill of the type that went out of use in 1929, to be supplanted by the smaller size bills in use today.

Excited by their find, the boys continued to rummage. More and more bills in various denominations fell to the floor. Most of them were oversize. Included among them were $100 and $50 gold certificates, which were outlawed by the Government in 1933.

The youngsters also found a couple of handfuls of silver coins, including some 50-cent pieces dating back to 1870.

Searching further, they found a stack of unendorsed checks dated during the 1930s. They had been written for a total of some $5,000. The boxes also yielded some deposit slips of the Farmers & Merchants Bank, made out in 1932.

The boys told authorities later that they took the money away and buried it under the front steps of one of their homes.

They returned to the building, found some more bills and buried them also. The total, they estimated, came to around $3,100.

One of the boys decided that he was going to spend some of the money. He dug up one of the oversized $100 bills and went into a store. He ordered a transistor radio and several cigarette lighters. The storekeeper took one look at the bill, did a double-take, and peered at the boy.

He said that he recognized the boy as being a ward of the juvenile court and under supervision of the welfare authorities. The storekeeper notified State's Attorney C. Burnam Mace of Dorchester County.

Mace assigned a county detective, Otto Cheeseman, to investigate.

Cheeseman questioned the youngsters, then went to the old building. It is a landmark and is known as the "Old Brick Hotel." It was a hotel more than a half century ago. In recent years it has been in use as an office building, with apartments on the second floor.

The rear office where the boys found the money hadn't been used in years. Cheeseman went into the office and did some puttering himself.

It was his turn to be amazed. More money was in the boxes, some in the old-fashioned bills and some in crisp, modern $1 bills.

Cheeseman uncovered $3,700 himself.

When he went to recover the fortune which the boys had buried he found only $1,600. One of the boys told him that he became scared after the money was buried, removed between $1,000 and $1,500 worth of the bills, and burned them.

Mace put all of the money, totaling some $5,300 in a vault and said it will now be up to the Farmers & Merchants Bank of Cambridge and the National Bank of Cambridge to decide which is to claim it.

Farmers & Merchants enters the picture because of its deposits slips that were found with the cache. The other bank figures in the case because it has bought the old building, which is located next to its offices.

The bank plans to raze the structure, now occupied by a few tenants, and use the lot to establish drive-in banking facilities.

Nobody could figure out how the money got into the unoccupied office, how long it had been there, or whose it is. The office also contains a desk, and an old-fashioned stove. A pair of steel-rimmed spectacles were on the desk.

The authorities ordered the site sealed off to discourage other fortune seekers.

Middlesex Election Soon

Nominations from the floor for next year's officers, to supplement the report of the nominating committee made at the last session, are expected to highlight the next meeting of the Middlesex County Coin Club of Metuchen, N. J., to be held at the Elks Club, Middlesex Avenue, Highway 27, on Wednesday, November 15, at 8:30 p.m.

In addition, preliminary plans for the club's next annual Coin Show, set for April 21, 1962, are to be discussed. The Show will be the group's second.

Two incumbents and three new names are among the nominees reported by the committee for the annual election, scheduled for the December meeting. These include Kenneth Morrison for president and Milton Stern for secretary-treasurer, both incumbents; and Lee Goodman, vice president; Helen Cegelski, corresponding secretary, and Anthony D'Milli, sergeant-at-arms.

In addition to accepting the committee's report, other action of the club at the last session included a reduction in dues from $3 per year to $1 for regular members, with dealer members having bourse tables remaining at $5 per year.

President Morrison was named general chairman for the 1962 Coin Show, and announcements made that non-member exhibits will be welcome for competition. The bourse will be limited to 35 dealers. Information regarding exhibits or bourse space may be obtained by writing Morrison at 57 Ethel Street, Metuchen, N. J.

The Official Augustus Saint-Gaudens COMMEMORATIVE MEDAL

OBVERSE: COLUMBUS

The first medal in the beautiful COIN MEDALS series. Other medals to follow, about three each year, will commemorate Victor Brenner, Charles Barber, George Morgan, and other famous makers familiar to all numismatists.

Illustrated above, the Saint-Gaudens medal shows on the obverse Saint-Gaudens' finest work in medallics, his Discovery of America. On the reverse, are shown his studio home in Cornish, New Hampshire, and his finest work in coins, the Roman Date Double Eagle. The coin is artistically presented as a setting sun over the house, symbolizing the decease of the great sculptor in the same year he designed the coin. This medal is issued with the approval of the Trustees of Saint-Gaudens Memorial.

REVERSE: SAINT-GAUDENS

COIN MEDALS, in the Saint-Gaudens medal, brings to the collector these firsts in medallics.

First, in honoring and commemorating famous coin designers. Thus, this series of medals will have lasting and growing interest among coin collectors.

First, with a new concept in designing. COIN MEDALS are designed by a numismatist with many years of experience in collecting and dealing in coins, and who feels he knows what other collectors desire in a medal. This medal shows what Saint-Gaudens did in coins and medallics, whereas the old way of designing would show only his bust.

First, with high relief on both the obverse and reverse. The ordinary medal is flat on the reverse. On a king-size medal such as the Saint-Gaudens, this "double-relief" requires the use of tremendous presses to bring out the relief on both sides.

All the sculpture and die-work on the Saint-Gaudens medal was done by Robert Stephan Schabel, and the beautiful work on this medal proves he is one of the few really top artists in medallics. Mr. Schabel is now working on the Victor Brenner medal.

The Metal Arts Company of Rochester, New York, is producing COIN MEDALS for us, and we recommend this firm to any individual or group desiring to issue anything from a token to the finest medal.

PRICES:

The Saint-Gaudens Bronze Medal, in box with descriptive folder, ..... $5.50, or two for $10.00
Two medals afford a simultaneous view of the obverse and reverse, with appropriate holders to be offered later.
The Saint-Gaudens Silver Medal, in velvet lined case with descriptive folder ..... $30.00

The Saint-Gaudens medal is issued in bronze and silver, and is of large 3 inch diameter, as all COIN MEDALS to follow. The bronze weighs about 7 ounces, and the silver, being of the same thickness, weighs about 8 ounces. The silver medals are serially numbered on the edge, with a total issue of not over 5000. All silver COIN MEDALS are limited to the same 5000 issue. Purchasers of the Saint-Gaudens are reserved the same serial number in the Brenner and other medals. So when the Saint-Gaudens is sold out, it will be difficult to obtain any of the other silver medals later.

Collectors who have already bought the Saint-Gaudens silver medal, may send payment of $30.00 anytime (or first $10 payment) for the Brenner medal, which will be ready in December. Please mention number of your Saint-Gaudens when you write. This early payment will give us more time to process orders.

You need send only $10.00 to reserve your silver medal, and pay the balance in two monthly payments, and medal will be shipped as soon as all paid. You will receive acknowledgement of the order and serial number of your medal. This payment plan applies to all future silver COIN MEDALS.

Oregon Club Announces Coin Jamboree In January

The fourth annual Coin Club Jamboree of the Willamalane Coin Club of Springfield, Oregon, will be held at the Willamalane Memorial Building at Eighth and North A streets, Springfield, on January 26, 27 and 28, according to an announcement by Mrs. Kermit Alexander, publicity chairman.

Charles Speight has been named general chairman and also will be in charge of the bourse. Dealers are expected from California, Oregon, Washington, and British Columbia.

The program include an auction, a banquet and entertainment on Saturday night, and the ever popular coffee bar where free coffee and cookies will be offered to those registering for the three-day Jamboree. Mrs. Charles Speight is in charge of registration.

All coin collectors are invited to attend and bring their displays. Ribbons will be awarded in several different classifications.

Officers of the Willamalane club are Kermit Alexander, president; F. E. Passmore, vice president; Mrs. Charles Speight, secretary; and Mrs. Lee Martinson, treasurer.

Mid-Hudson Club Meets November 14

The Mid-Hudson Coin Club of Poughkeepsie, N.Y., has scheduled its next meeting for Tuesday, November 14, to be held in the Y.M.C.A., 58 Market Street, starting at 8 p.m., according to a report from secretary Frank A. Toman of Millbrook.

Organized a year ago last April, the club now has a membership of 60, and is headed for the second year by Thomas E. Welton of Wappingers Falls as president. Other officers named in June before the summer adjournment include Michael Petrucci and Edwin Goldman, both of Poughkeepsie, as vice president and treasurer, respectively.

When You Think of Medals... Think of SHAWNEE HILLS MEDALISTS

"America's Largest Exclusive Medal Dealers"

With the increasing popularity of medal collecting, a large number of new dealers have appeared in the medal field in the past few months. This is a good thing—the collector is the ultimate benefactor when there is competition among dealers. We wish to take this opportunity to wish our new colleagues every success in their chosen field of endeavor.

If you are not one of our hundreds of satisfied customers, we would like to take this opportunity to tell you about our firm. We offer the most complete service in the medallic line in America today. If you need any of the following services, we are here to serve you.

- Subscription service on all current medallic series.
- Wide range of contacts to help you obtain what you need or sell your quality issues to other collectors.
- Complete manufacturing service, including die-sinking and production of all types of medals and tokens from "throws" for parades and special occasions to the finest and largest high relief medallions designed to please the most discriminating collector.
- A fine staff of artists to design your medal issue completely or finish your rough sketches into perfected art work for die-making.
- Complete advertising copy and layout service and publicity counseling by experts in the field with years of experience.
- Fine printing for descriptive folders and mailing pieces to accompany your medals.

No other firm in the medal field offers all these services to the collector or the distributor of fine medallic issues. That is why we say, when you think of medals, think of Shawnee Hills Medalists. We are in business to serve, exclusively, the discriminating medal collector.

TO PRESIDENTIAL ART COLLECTORS:

A word of explanation about this magnificent series of medals. We have been flooded with hundreds of letters ordering the Lincoln and Washington silver medals. We have been forced, reluctantly, to refuse these orders. Due to the tremendous demand and the limited issue, Presidential Art has been forced to ration dealer's quotas on these pieces. Our quota has been set and is not likely to be increased. All our silver medals are promised for the duration of the series, and we cannot accept new customers for silver medals. We are very sorry, but we must honor our previous commitments to our many fine customers who started the series with us. We will gladly accept your subscription for the medals in bronze at $2.50 each.

ANNOUNCING

An Official Medal

Lost-Wax Cast in Sterling Silver

GETTYSBURG, the greatest battle of the Civil War, fittingly commemorated by a high water mark in American medal making, the issue of a sterling silver medal cast by the lost-wax process. For those who appreciate a medal as a work of art, this will be a treasured and increasingly valued possession.

A LIMITED EDITION of 3500 serially numbered sterling silver medals will be cast. Each medal is 2-7/16 inches in diameter and has a thickness of 1/4 inch. This issue is officially sponsored by the Gettysburg Numismatic Society, A.N.A. No. 32281.

LOST-WAX CASTING was the method used for producing many of the finest Renaissance medals and is the time-honored technique for transferring sculpture from the model to bronze or precious metals. In this process, each medal requires individual attention through the many steps from modeling the wax to hand-finishing the silver.

A DESCRIPTIVE BROCHURE accompanies each medal.

PLATINUM (pure) medals will be available, serially numbered to 25. Price on request.

SILVER (sterling) medals, available now, serially numbered to 3500. Delivery will be made in the order in which received $35.00

Plonski Heads Carolina State Coin Clubs Group

Ed Plonski of Durham, N. C., was elected new state president of the Coin Clubs of North Carolina at the third annual convention of that group at the Jack Tar Hotel in Durham on October 13, 14 and 15.

Plonski, who served as first vice president last year, succeeds John Pheagin of Fayetteville, N. C. as head of the state's 34 coin clubs.

Other new officers elected include James W. Jackson of Greensboro, who succeeds Plonski as first vice president; Ed Bell of Smithfield, succeeding Jackson as second vice president; J. W. Basson of Greensboro, who was re-elected secretary-treasurer; and his wife who was re-elected as corresponding secretary.

New directors elected include Bob Hoadley of Raleigh, Claude Rankin of Fayetteville and Bill Heigh of Charlotte.

All of the new officers and directors were installed at ceremonies held following a banquet which was held on the final day of the convention.

The major attraction during the three-day event was an exhibit of coins and bank notes valued at approximately one million dollars. The exhibit was set up at the Jack Tar and was open to public viewing on all three days.

In addition to being elected president, Plonski also served as general chairman of the convention committee. He reported that approximately 30 dealers were represented at the bourse tables.

George Walton of Charlotte, N. C. walked away with first prize in both the silver and gold exhibits. Included in his winning displays were a complete set of dimes, a complete set of nickels dating from 1866 to present, a complete set of three-cent pieces in both silver and nickel, and a 1913 Liberty nickel which was another feature attraction at the convention.

Xenia Club Names Officers

George Camp was elected president of the Xenia, Ohio, Coin Club at a recent meeting of the group at the Y.M.C.A., according to an announcement by Mrs. Paul Day, newly elected secretary.

Other officers elected include Don Craycraft, vice president, and Paul Keemer, treasurer.

A discussion was held on obtaining new members, and it was suggested that present members bring a guest with them to the next club meeting. Meetings are held on the second Thursday of each month at the Y.M.C.A. and all interested persons are welcome to attend.

Walton also displayed a complete set of gold Commemorative coins, a complete set of Charlotte, Bechtler and Dahlonge gold.

Dr. Conway Bolt won the grand prize with a series of four displays of a combination type set and rare gold pieces dating from 1795 to 1834. He also displayed a set of Charlotte, and Bechtler gold, and a two displays of mint errors.

In the miscellaneous class, James T. Pheagin won first prize with his display of odd and curious monies and a case of Biblical coins which included a clay tablet dating back to Abraham's time (1850 B.C.) used as a promissory note.

In final competition, six display cases of fractional currency, continental currency, colonial currency, state bills of the Southern States and two boards of obsolete bills with Andrew Jackson vignettes were shown by L. A. Cook of Hapeville, Georgia.

The famous Whisnot collection of bank notes was also shown.

There were 30 dealers present, representing 22 states and Canada. The auction was conducted by Edward K. Bell of Smithfield.

Active Traders Band Into Coin Exchange Membership

John E. Barrett of Ithaca, N. Y., who is supervisor of industrial safety, and radiation safety officer at Cornell University, is secretary of one of the most unusual numismatic organizations in the country, the Coin Exchange Club of Ithaca.

This group has a membership of 90 active traders, representing 20 states and the District of Columbia, in addition to five foreign countries.

According to Barrett, the club operates as a non-profit organization, with no dues and membership open to any coin collector who will abide by the by-laws. The purpose of the organization, in addition to good fellowship, is to gather together loosely the coin collecting talents of members, in all sections of the country, who believe in building their duplicates for trade.

New membership will only be offered to collectors of foreign coins, Barrett advised, because it is almost impossible to get enough key coins to supply the U.S. wants of the present members.

The club maintains a "coin bank" in Ithaca of duplicate coins from which the secretary fills the wants of members as their lists come in. Coins deposited in the bank are kept in kraft envelopes and identified by country, Yoe-man book number, price, and members' identification number.

Barrett keeps track of all transactions between members and advises all members of their standing at each meeting, at the end of each letter, or upon demand.

Members deposit with Barrett their duplicate coins, or a list of of same. Barrett then matches these coins with the want list of each member and then either ships the coins or advises the member holding the coins where to ship them.

The secretary has a large collection of reference books which are available for the use of club members.

Professor Wendall Earle, department of agriculture economics, Cornell University is president of the adult group which meets once a month; James Rich, a high school student, is president of the junior group; and Barrett handles contacts with corresponding members.

Barrett reports that the junior group is very active, and in addition to trading coins at their meetings, they have discussions on some phase of coin collecting.

Additional information may be obtained by writing John E. Barrett, 328 W. Seneca street, Ithaca, N. Y.

Medals Awarded To Nation's Heroes

American defense service medal

Medal for humane action

In observance of Veterans' Day, and in tribute to America's fighting men and women, not only those who fought and survived but to the countless thousands who gave their lives in defense of our country, Coin World dedicates this page.

Falling on November 11, Veterans' Day is set aside to honor our war heroes, and is a day when Americans, everywhere, renew their pledge that... "Those who died, shall not have died in vain!"

Coin World, then, takes this opportunity to offer a well deserved salute to the veteran, with the array of medals pictured on this page.

Laramie Club Proposed

Coin collectors in the Laramie, Wyo., area were scheduled to meet at the county Courthouse in October, for the purpose of forming a coin club. Interested collectors are invited to contact A. D. Phillips of Laramie for information regarding future meetings of the new group.

Pittman Speaker At Carolina Convention

John J. Pittman of Rochester, N.Y., was guest speaker at the third annual convention of the Coin Clubs of North Carolina, held at Durham, N.C., recently in the Jack Tar Hotel.

The topic for Pittman's address to the convention banquet was "Coin Collecting Trends of the 20th Century." An active collector for the past 25 years, Pittman is a member of the American Numismatic Association's board of governors, and a director of the Canadian Numismatic Association.

A native of Virginia, Pittman grew up in North Carolina and was graduated from the University of North Carolina as a chemical engineer.

Previous to his address, Pittman was interviewed by a reporter from the Durham Herald who told his readers that "Pittman talks about coin collecting like Roger Maris talks about home runs."

At the convention Pittman said, "Inflation of the dollar and increased leisure time are vital factors in the art of coin collecting."

"Inflation has allowed the layman to pursue the hobby financially, and more leisure time has given him the opportunity to hit the four corners of the globe in pursuit of the rare coins."

"The chase is the thing," Pittman continued. "It's the excitement of running down the rare coin. Some people are in it for the money, but a lot more take it as seriously as an artist does his painting or sculpturing."

The speaker said there's a lot more than just getting a certain coin. "You can learn a lot of history and geography and meet some interesting people from all over the world," he said. "I spoke to a collector from Greece in his native tongue today, and his eyes really lit up," Pittman added.

He told listeners that his hobby has taken him on journeys to Europe, North Africa, Central and South America, and throughout Canada.

ABRAHAM LINCOLN: Silver (First issue 6500 sold out by mfr.) A few available at $35.00 each; Bronze $2.50.

The above medals in matched numbers; balance of series can be purchased from us with corresponding numbers at $17.50 each.

We can also supply the Presidential Art series Kennedy and Lincoln medals in silver plated oxidized satin finish. We will supply the silver plated bronze medals with oxidized satin finish for $4.00 each and guarantee the remainder of the series in this finish. It is almost impossible to tell these plated medals from the pure silver medals. However, we stress the fact that these medals cannot be passed off fraudulently as pure silver since they are not stamped pure silver and are not numbered. Please advise if you wish to be placed on a permanent list for the balance of this series at $4.00 each. Dealer inquiries invited.

A WORD ABOUT 1960-P SMALL DATE CENTS:

There is a price war on this particular roll of cents amongst some of the dealers. It seems that a few bags were dumped on the market, which caused some of the dealers to panic and there should be some ads varying in price from $90.00 to $110.00 per roll. We have a fair supply of these rolls but we are not going to panic and dump these rolls on the market because we believe that this roll is the best numismatic investment in America. We honestly believe that the 1960-P small date cent will be another 1931-S cent in not too many years. Peachtree promises to sell these rolls for not less than $125.00 per roll regardless of the other dealers' prices. We can only say this: If you can buy them at less than our price, we urgently recommend it. When these dealers are sold out of their few rolls, there will be a wild scramble to buy these rolls at even a much higher price than we are offering to sell them.

New Jersey Firm Success Story

In June, 1960, Norman Pullen moved to 214 South Broad Street, Trenton, N. J., to expand his wholesale and retail coins and supply business.

Today he has three full time and three part time employees working with him in three different locations!

Central Jersey Coin and Supply Centers are located at Trenton, Pennsauken and New Brunswick.

Currently the firm is expanding its stamp accessory line, too.

Main objective for the Central Jersey staff is to provide fast, efficient service, according to Pullen.

For local deliveries, a van is used and for distant shipping, the United Parcel Service takes over—a private firm that specializes in one-day delivery anywhere in New Jersey.

The Trenton store is centrally located between New York and Philadelphia and is easily accessible by all major routes. There is always a very friendly and cordial atmosphere at the store, and customers are welcome to come in, browse around, and help themselves in picking out supplies they need. Before a new store is opened by a prospective customer, special care and guidance is used in helping him select a rounded and not overstocked supply of numismatic accessories—usually this occurs over lunch at a neighboring restaurant.

The firm makes it a point to send a bouquet of flowers to any new store opening up in the surrounding area and to personally visit with them.

Besides selling wholesale supplies to the dealer, coins and proof sets are also available to their accounts for resale.

In the future, plans are being made to build up a large wholesale coin service available only to wholesale accounts. This and other new ideas are constantly being formulated in order to best serve the new or established coin and stamp dealer.

The future holds bright prospects and the newest idea being planned is to form a New Jersey Retail Dealers' Association so as to bring all local dealers together into one closely knit group in order to help each other out. "Anyone interested in this idea and who is a full time dealer, please write to Norman Pullen, care of Central Jersey Coin & Supply Center, 214 South Broad Street, Trenton, N. J.," the firm head invites.

Pittsfield Anniversary Medals For Sale

The 200th anniversary medal for the city of Pittsfield, Mass., is being distributed by the Berkshire Coin Club of that city.

There are only 5,000 of the medallions available, according to August H. Killgas, honorary president of the club.

Obverse of the token carries a rooted tree with the legend, "A past of progress and a future of opportunity" with the dates 1761-

1961 and the Pittsfield Berkshire Bicentennial.

A 50 cent trade value is listed on the back of the piece.

Inquiries for the tokens may be addressed to Berkshire Coin Club, P. O. Box 91, Pittsfield, Mass.

Club Sends Big Delegation

Twenty members of the Central Florida Coin Club, Inc., attended the American Numismatic Association convention in Atlanta — some of the members went as delegates for the Florida United Numismatists convention (F.U.N.) to be held at the Cerry Plaza Hotel, Orlando, Fla., January 11-14. The club had its own candid cameraman at Atlanta, and he snapped the photos shown here. From top down are Charles Rinehart and C. F. Gordon; H. M. Mercer and Cecil Moore; H. B. Gatewood; Mr. and Mrs. H. W. Helem and R. L. Hendershott, Central Florida member and F.U.N. secretary.

Fergus Club Begins

The Fergus Coin Club has been organized in Fergus Falls, Minn., and is scheduled to hold its next meeting on Monday, November 13, in the Community room of the Fergus Falls City Hall, starting at 7:30 p.m. Interested collectors are invited to attend.

Veterans Day Almost Upon Us

This is the last week that you will be able to order a subscription of COIN WORLD to be sent to a Veteran's hospital of your choice and have the subscription start in time to be received on Veteran's Day, November 11th.

Many of our readers have sent us subscriptions of this nature stating that they wish to share their wonderful hobby with someone less fortunate than they.

We have complete list and addresses of all Veteran Hospitals in the United States and if you do not have the full address we will be able to complete your subscription if you so instruct us.

The following is a list of gift subscriptions designated to Veteran's Hospitals that we received the past few days:

United States Air Force Hospital Library, Travis AFB, California, gift from Joseph A. Caesar, Ajo, Arizona.

Veteran's Hospital, Alexandria, Louisiana, gift from Max Gelwix, Grand Junction, Colorado.

Library Sets Up "Coin Corner"

Another interesting letter was received recently and it reads as follows:

Please send one year subscription of the Coin World to Torrance Coin Club Division, care Torrance Library, 1345 Post Ave., Torrance, California. Enclosed is our $4.00 check.

This is a donation we are giving to this group. The Library board has set aside a space for coin collectors in this library.

Missouri Club Adds Meeting

When the Excelsior Springs, Mo., Coin Club meets next Monday, November 13, final plans will be made for the addition of a second meeting each month, starting Sunday, November 19, according to recently elected secretary Trissie Ebright.

Members of the club decided they wanted a day meeting once a month, and the third Sunday was chosen, which will be in addition to the normal evening session each second Monday. Both take place at the Annex Room of the Oaks Hotel, the Sunday meeting to start at 3:30 p.m., the evening sessions at 7:30 o'clock.

At next Monday's meeting also, reports will be made on the October special Sunday afternoon public auction, held at the Royal Hotel.

Ted Boone was re-elected president of the club at the regular October meeting. Chosen vice president was Donald Lee Jones, replacing J. George Sexton, and Trissie Ebright replaced Frances E. Parks as secretary-treasurer.

Also elected was an Executive Board comprising Helen Mensing, Roy Smith, Charles Goodman Jr., and Gerald Mason.

Election Slated

Michigan Firm Starts Gold Rush In Kalamazoo

Workers of the Canonic Construction Company, who were busy at the new Kalamazoo River diversion channel project, Kalamazoo, Mich., created a minor "gold rush" recently when one worker picked up a shiny object that turned out to be a $10 gold eagle dated 1869, and shortly thereafter found another $10 gold piece dated 1880.

Fellow workers rushed to the scene and soon several other valuable coins were found. The initial find was made by Clarence Osenoski, and the second coin finder was Ira Mallory of Levering, Mich., who picked up an 1882 $10 eagle a few inches from Osenoski.

Gene Howard of Dayton, Tenn., made the only find of a foreign coin when he plucked a 10 mark German gold piece date 1875 out of the soft earth. Gene also found an 1881 eagle.

Al Watkins of 26 W. Rittenhouse Ave., found a $5 gold piece minted in 1880. He also said another worker found a $10 coin dated 1854.

Mr. Osenoski and Mr. Mallory took a few minutes off from their work next day to say they "pretty well scoured" the area looking for more of the coins, but to no avail.

Gene Howard, about ready to swing aboard his truck loaded with earth from the mill pond, showed his two coins and wondered aloud what they were worth.

A local coin dealer believed the windfall is not as valuable monetarily as the Canonic men first believed. Some had the erroneous impression the coins could sell for about $100.

The 1869 $10 gold piece is catalogued at $21, the other $10 coins are listed at $19 each while the $5 gold piece is worth $10. These prices are all for coins described in "fine" condition, which all in the find were. The total face value is under $100.

The men said they were working fill when the first three coins were located in soft earth about three inches apart. Several others were found about six feet away later on.

They continued to rake and shovel in the immediate area and the only other coin turned up at that time was by an equipment operator. His machine was turning up the dirt and softening it up for the hand shoveling and raking.

No one knows where the fill came from but there is some speculation it was from the site just north of the Jefferson School where the diversion channel borders the Michigan Carton Co.

Where the coins came from is still a mystery.

One finder theorized they could have been part of a stolen coin collection which the thief buried for future use.

The area where the gold pieces were found is part of the city slum clearance project and the coins could have been overlooked when the families moved out and the coins turned over by bulldozers after the houses were razed.

A Kalamazoo banking official said he doubts there would be any questions raised if the men kept the coins. The federal law which governs possession of gold was written to prohibit hoarding of gold, not keepsakes or such finds. Collectors are authorized to keep larger amounts of the coins.

Glued On Mint Mark Swindle Has Texas Officers Baffled

Police in Waco, Texas, are back where they started in their investigation of a rare coin swindle which they have had under investigation since late August, according to a recent report from Waco.

Officers had obtained pictures of six suspects who were reported to be selling fake 1909-S VDB Lincoln cent, but failure of Waco coin dealer L. E. Walters to identify the photos resulted in the case being placed in police inactive files.

Account of the swindle was reported in Waco when Walters, who manages the Hobby Shop in that city, told police he bought a Lincoln cent valued for its mint mark, then saw the valued mark drop off when he attempted to clean the coin.

Walters told police that he paid $40 for the coin. "It was an excellent job," Walters said later, "I looked at it under a magnifying glass, and I couldn't see the flaw."

Detectives said the coin, with the valued mint mark glued back on, later passed scrutiny of other Waco coin dealers.

C. E. Pettigrew, member of the detective bureau, said "We're right back where we started. We haven't got a thing to go on right now."

"These swindlers have done a surprisingly good job," officers said, "but there's less than $50 involved which means that there isn't much we can do if we do catch them. The case will be considered a misdemeanor because more than $50 must be involved to make it a felony."

Also, detectives said the swindlers can't be charged with defacing coins since they actually haven't changed the recognized value of the cent.

Detective Captain Tom Bennett has warned all Waco coin dealers to be especially observant when purchasing valued coins from strangers.

"Thus far," Captain Bennett said, "the swindlers have concentrated on the Lincoln cent. The main target has been the 1909 issue with the valued cent being the 1909 with an 'S' mint mark."

IT IS NEVER ENOUGH!

Intelligent Collectors know they must have continual information at hand at all times. Coin Collectors realize that their purchasing power is controlled only when they have reliable information continually at hand.

It is never enough to rely on lists or books that are printed weeks or months before their release and become outmoded (pricewise) weeks after their publication.

Our Coin Lists are published once-a-month and are always up-to-date. Thousands of coin collectors and dealers alike use our Coin Lists to aid and guide themselves with up-to-the-minute realistic prices.

We not only recommend but URGE you to keep abreast with true coin values which are to the point—more important prices that are in vogue to-day—not weeks or months old.

It is that simple when you heed the advice of E. Strauss, professional numismatist for over 37 years.

No more need be said or done other than your next move is to send $3.00 now for the next 12 issues of our Coin Lists (one year).

Note: List No. 612K For November 1961 is out

PRICE 34c

Or the next 12 issues (1 yr.) for $3.00 postpaid.

Medals to commemorate the 50th anniversary of the Rochester, N. Y., Numismatic Association to be observed in January 6 ceremonies.

Rochester Association Plans Fiftieth Anniversary Observance

The Rochester, N.Y., Numismatic Association is planning its second medal, this one to commemorate its 50th anniversary which will be celebrated on January 6, 1962, according to a report from secretary Robert E. Ogg.

First medal of the club was struck in 1958 in honor of the group's 100th meeting.

The 50th anniversary medal will be dollar size, in three metals, bronze, nickel-silver, and sterling silver, the latter to be in limited quantity, all struck by Alphonse Kolb, Ogg said.

Enough medals will be made so that non-members may obtain them if desired. Orders should be sent in advance to Howard F. Osterman, 433 Tarrington Road, Rochester 9, N.Y., in order for the club to know how many should be struck.

Advance payment in money order or certified check made out to the Association of $5 per pair of bronze and nickel-silver or $10 for the sterling silver must be sent. The medals will be mailed following the celebration on January 6.

Ogg and John J. Pittman have been announced as co-chairmen for the anniversary affair which will be an all-day show climaxed by a banquet, at the Hotel Pow-ers. Other members of the celebration committee include A. Kolb, F. Newell, Dr. F. Cady and Stella Osterman.

Detailed plans are expected to be discussed at the Association's next meeting, Tuesday, November 21, at the Museum of Arts and Sciences, 657 East avenue, in Rochester.

Penn-Ohio Price Lower Than Estimate

A highlight of the recent Penn-Ohio Coin Clubs Fall Regional Convention, held at the Statler Hilton Hotel in Cleveland, Ohio, was the sale of an "unknown" and possibly unique $50 note, 1878, of the National Broadway Bank of New York.

Although it was estimated that this particular item would bring over $5,000, it was sold to Joseph S. Kopas for $1,550.

The $50 note has a red scalloped seal, the signatures of Allison and Wyman, and on the right a picture of Washington kneeling in prayer. At left, Washington crossing the Delaware River. On the reverse is a vignette of the embarkation of the Pilgrims. It is printed on buff toned paper with blue end.

The note is in very good to fine condition, and is not listed in Friedberg's catalog.

Other auction highlights included sale to a mail bidder for $150 an 1828 curled base with knobbed 2 half dollar. The estimated bid on this item was $200 plus.

An almost uncirculated dime dated 1859-S sold for $125 to a mail bidder who had submitted a high bid of $187.50. The closest floor bid was $115.

Lots 651 and 652, which were U.S. gold dollars in very fine and extra fine sold on the floor at $45 and $52.60. A late bid received two days after the date of sale on these two lots was $56.10 each, which shows that it is wise to get bids in early because the mail is sometimes delayed.

The auction was conducted by Michael Kolman Jr. of Federal Brand Enterprises, Cleveland, Ohio.

Circulated Roll Yields Thick, Proof Freak Cent

It's not unusual to see a Lincoln cent in proof condition, in someone's collection, that is, but in a circulated roll of cents obtained from a bank, it certainly gives cause for wonder.

Coin World staff member, Ed Neuce, recently found just such a coin in a roll of circulated cents purchased at a Sidney, Ohio, bank.

The coin, a 1960 Lincoln (large date) not only is in proof condition, but also has a wire edge, and is almost double the thickness of an ordinary Lincoln cent.

There are two possible explanations for finding such a coin in circulation. Either a collector mistakenly spent the cent, which seems unlikely since proof coins are usually kept in holders or in the original mint package, or the coin could very well have been spent following one of the numerous coin robberies which have occurred recently.

A third possibility that the coin could have been released for circulation from the mint, also seems unlikely, observed Neuce.

Space Agency Comments On Mangan Idea

James T. Mangan of Evergreen Park, Ill., prime minister of the Nation of Celestial Space, recently received a letter from the National Aeronautics and Space Administration telling Mangan that his idea of basing a currency upon energy rather than upon gold or silver was interesting and "appears logical."

The letter, signed by James A. Hootman, executive secretary inventions and contributions board, was in response to a letter from Mangan, in which Mangan had enclosed a Silver Joule, a coin of the Nation of Celestial Space.

Another letter, this one addressed to the students of the Loyola University School of Law, came from John F. Kennedy when he was still U.S. Senator from Massachusetts. The Kennedy letter follows:

"Dear students—This is to acknowledge and thank you for your petition regarding Mr. James Thomas Mangan's claim.

"I am not altogether certain that a United States Senator is the ideal person to define sovereignty in Celestial Space. Unfortunately, our own realm is an exceedingly worldly one, and we are having difficulty even reaching Outer Space.

"I personally think that the search for Celestial Space is ideally one carried on from the grass roots, and especially in the wide open spaces of Illinois."

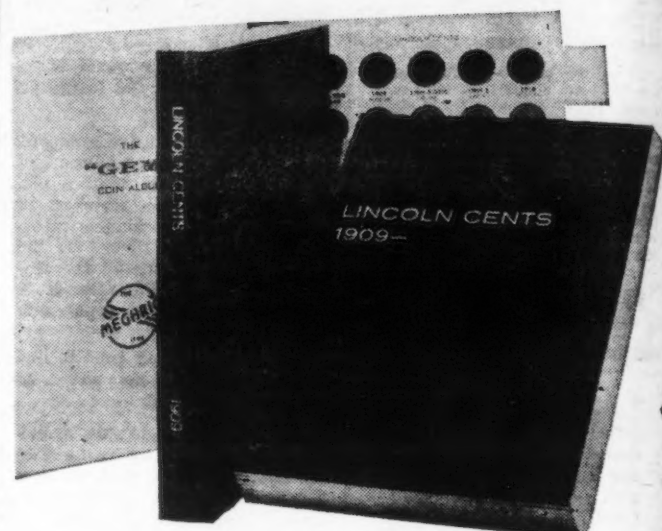

Celestia now has a population of 28,000, Mangan reports.

Tri-City To Plan Show

Returning to its normal schedule of meetings, the Tri-County Coin Club of St. Marys, Ohio, is slated to hold its next session on Sunday, November 12, at the Eagles Lodge, at 2 p.m., with the main item for discussion expected to be its second Coin Show to be held Sunday, November 19, at the Union Hall in St. Marys.

Goal for the Show is that every member should have an exhibit, expressed by display chairman Floyd H. Clark at the last meeting. Arrangements for exhibit space will be made final at Sunday's session.

Highlights of the auction at the last meeting were in the Canadian series, with cents, nickels and dimes getting much of the action. U. S. proof sets aroused interest, however, with a 1957 set realizing $4.50 or considerably above current market, as did a 1960 set which brought $4.

Schulman Reports

Andorra, Lisbon, Magic Names To Traveling Writer

By Hans M. F. Schulman
Hans Schulman writes again from Europe where he has been on a numismatic tour for the past six weeks. Coin World's roving reporter wrote the first part of this column while on a train bound from Paris to the Spanish border. From the Spanish border Hans Schulman he made his way to Andorra, the tiny republic high in the Pyrenees. Globetrotter Schulman dispatched the second part of his column from Lisbon, the picturesque capital of Portugal—Editor.

I am writing this article on a 13½ hour train ride all the way through France, from Paris to the Spanish border where a car is waiting for me to drive me up to Andorra. A week ago, I wrote about Budapest and the days behind the Iron Curtain. How wonderful Vienna looked on this hot summer day coming from the tightly police-controlled "People's Democracy."

I had bought some gold coins in Hungary and had obtained my export permit and currency declaration, the latter indicating that I had exchanged some traveller's cheques.

So I asked the official who had given me these papers if I should show the gold coins on the border to the customs control. "For goodness sakes," he answered in very good English; "these border guards never saw a paper permitting gold coins to go out of the country. They might think that you faked the paper and hold you overnight till they contact us here in Budapest. You'd better put these things away and say nothing, even if asked," concluded the officials.

Now here I was doing everything the correct legal way and I risked to get into trouble.

But at the border they did not ask anything. In Vienna our good old friend Henry Lowinger took care that I enjoyed this gay and beautiful city. A visit to the coin collection on the top floor of the Kunsthistorische Museum, where Dr. Holzmair and Dr. Koch hold reign is a great experience.

The treasure is so great in all fields of numismatics that you are just astounded. Dr. Holzmair was still in Rome, but his spirit still wandered around the rooms.

Dealers Tellman and L. Herinek of Vienna were busy with lists and catalogs and were more anxious than ever to buy classical Austrian coins.

Oldest numismatic house in town is the stately building belonging to Rothe and Neffe (which really means Rothe and cousins) on the Kohlmarkt, the Madison avenue of Vienna. Some 170 years ago, Christian Rothe founded the firm and it has been in direct family ownership ever since. The old Hapsburg house granted Rothe the privilege to make the orders and decorations, and many princely and ducal

Cornall Speaker At Rotary

Robert Cornall, manager of displays for the New York State Electric and Gas Corp., spoke recently on the subject of coin collecting at a meeting of the Plattsburgh, N. Y., Rotary Club.

Cornall told the Rotarians that coin collecting is one of the world's oldest hobbies, and among the various bits of information which he passed on at the meeting was the following:

"There are 85,000 persons in the world who collect coins as a hobby. Another 940,000 persons collect coins as both a hobby and vestment."

The speaker also advised the Rotarians where to look for mint marks, how to value a coin, and listed several valuable coins of the Lincoln cent series.

Greenwood Club Speaker

Club president Roscoe Greenwood gave a talk on ancient, foreign and early American coins, at a recent meeting of the Boulder Coin Club, Boulder, Colo.

Greenwood exhibited his collection of rare Washington tokens and early American coins at the Wyoming-Colorado Coin Convention earlier this month and took second place honors.

Arrangements have been made to hold future meetings of the Boulder club in the old Library building. Time of the meetings was not announced.

Detective Guest

At California Club

Detective Sergeant John Mattern of the San Jose, Calif., police department, was guest speaker at the October meeting of the Pacific Coast Numismatic Society, according to a report from Mrs. Harry Cutler, secretary.

Mattern spoke on the subject of "Coin Security."

THE RESPONSE...

From collectors who have bought the Saint-Gaudens medal, is simply wonderful! Here are a few expressions from hundreds of letters received...

"Exquisitely beautiful"

"The Rolls-Royce of medals"

"Outstanding medallion work"

"Even better than I expected"

"I like the big serial number, don't have to use a glass"

Orders are pouring in for the Brenner medal, the next in the beautiful COIN MEDALS series, from customers who have bought the Saint-Gaudens. It looks like a 100% advance sale on the Brenner.

We have seen the large obverse model of the Brenner medal, as prepared by Robert Schabel. It is perfect, in fact even better than Brenner's original in that it has higher relief. The reverse

BUT DON'T FORGET...

We are still in the coin business, and have a large stock of nice coins for collectors, from Colonials, Half Cents to Gold, Paper Money, etc. In fact, due to being in the coin business, you do not need to send me money to buy your Silver Saint-Gaudens medal, just send me any nice duplicate coins you may have that you think are worth $30.00. If your coins are worth more than $30 to me, I will send you the medal and check for the extra.

My approval plan is the best way to build up your coin collection, with coins of good value. Simply send me a list of the coins you need, with a $10.00 of the Brenner medal, on which Mr. Schabel is now working, will be a combined Lincoln-Brenner design. This is appropriate, since it was the Lincoln Cent that made Brenner famous more than anything else. The Brenner medal will probably be the finest medallion tribute ever made to Lincoln. We look for the Brenner medal to be even more beautiful than the Saint-Gaudens.

or $20.00 Deposit if you collect average value coins, or a $50.00 - $100.00 Deposit if you collect scarcer, Unc., Proof, gold coins. The Deposit will be held to your account, and you can use it when you make final settlement, or I will refund anytime you ask. In the meantime, I send coins on approval, on which you pay $10.00 or more a month on the coins you keep. I send more coins each time you make a payment, even though you make payments every week. I have many customers who have been receiving regular approvals from me over 15 years, and now have valuable collections.

Florida Attorney Has Cent Thoughts

Charles Patrick of the St. Petersburg, Fla., Times, recently informed his readers that the lowly penny could pose "a ponderous problem for St. Petersburg and other communities, if a numismatic purist ever decides to make an issue of the integrity of the cent."

Patrick was referring to an incident which happened to Canada not too long ago when Clifford Williams of Nanaimo, B. C. had an overtime parking ticket thrown out of court with a defense that could affect the whole North American continent.

Williams brought up the fact that a "penny" is an English coin, and is not legal tender in Canada. Canadian parking meters, like most U. S. meters, call for a penny rather than a cent.

Williams produced an English penny in court to prove that it was much too large to go into any meter. The judge dismissed the case and advised city fathers to correct the parking ordinance as well as the wording on meters.

Since the Williams incident, another on similar lines took place recently in Ohio. The outcome of that case is not known.

St. Petersburg's assistant city attorney, Carl Linn told Patrick that he doubts that the loose wording on city parking meters will lead to any court tests, "and if it does" Linn said, "I think the court in reasonably construing our ordinance would hold that a 'penny' is a popular expression for a one-cent piece."

What users are saying about COINEW

"I find it fine for almost every coin cleaning use."

"Have tried them all and yours is best."

"The last 3 bottles of Coinew cleaned up plenty of dirty coins for me."

"Prefer your cleaner to the others I carry." (dealer)

"First I would like to commend you on your excellent product. It has far surpassed even my expectations. It works perfectly."

The names of the testimonial writers will be furnished upon request.

More than 10,000 bottles of COINEW sold in 3 months is proof that COINEW told the truth about a remarkable product for cleaning coins. Now the man who brought COINEW to numismatists has compiled a FACT-packed book that tells the TRUTH about cleaning gold, silver, copper, nickel and zinc coins. Page after page of photographs, showing results of his experiments BEFORE and AFTER cleaning, clearly illustrate the result of coin cleaning. You can benefit by those experiments. Every coin collector who wants his collection to be more attractive and valuable should own this book. Now it is available at no extra charge with each purchase of the giant 11 oz. size bottle of COINEW. $2.00 plus 35c postage is all you pay! After Nov. 30, 1961, this book may be obtained only at the price of 75c at coin dealers.

COINEW solves the Coin Cleaning problem once and for all!

COINEW IS A REAL SHOCKER! COINEW is a clear liquid. (No artificial coloring to deceive.) It is simple and quick in its action. YOU JUST DIP THE COIN... THAT'S ALL! Rinse it off and there you are. Filthy uncirculated coins once again reflect the bright frostiness they had when they first left the mint. But that's not all. COINEW does a dandy job on XF and AU coins as well. Believe it or not, it works beautifully on any kind of coin. Try it on gold, silver, nickel or copper. Even zinc coins snap back to their original beauty. What more can we say? You have to see it work on your own coins to believe it.

The Republic of Austria still has its decorations and orders made by Rothe in his establishment. Although the present Mr. Rothe is still quite a young man, he has taken good care of the succession by having his two young daughters learn the business so that they can eventually run it.

The oldest one, Susanne, is one of the top experts in the order field, and although she is now only 24, I expect her to be one of the best in the world. The Rothe shop has seen many kings, emperors and princes come through its doors. Rothe also deals in gold and silver articles. And after you leave Rothe, you just cross the street and stop in at Vienna's oldest and most famous pastry shop, Dehmel's, and enjoy pastry that is just out of this world.

After Vienna, my next stop came in Zurich where I admired coins at Bank Leu and Co., coins that were placed in Bank Leu's big gold sale in Lucerne on October 11 and 12. This sale, which included rare U. S. gold coins, was publicized all over Europe. Your correspondent will report on this sale in future columns.

Zurich was full of Americans . . . Ed Shapiro and Robert Hecht were there from New York, and Frank Sternberg's coin establishment at Bahnhofstrasse 78 was the gathering point. Frank had just returned from Rome.

In Basel where I got a glimpse of Dr. Herbert Cahn before his departure to a numismatic congress in Israel, I spent some time brushing up on early Swiss history which is so important to a clear understanding of Swiss coinage.

No trip through Europe is complete without a visit to Paris where it was still very hot and humid. Here numismatic life was going on as usual, except that Jean Vinchon was in the midst of remodeling his shop at 77 rue de Richelieu. Americans Ben and Doris Stack and Frank Saab with Elisabeth were in town also.

1776 Continental Currency

In 1876 Montroville W. Dickeson, prominent 19th century numismatist and author of "The American Numismatic Manual" produced dies to strike copies of the first dollar sized coin proposed for the United States, the 1776 Continental Dollar. A small number of these pieces were struck to commemorate the 1876 United States Centennial. These copies are now a highly prized collectors item.

They are listed in both of Richard Kenny's works: "So-Called Dollars" (K-13, page 3), and "Struck Copies of Early American Coins" (pages 12, 15). Reference is also made to them in the 15th edition of the Guide Book, (page 35).

Recently the Dickeson dies were found, in perfect condition, and a limited number of restrikes have been made. In order not to confuse the modern issue with the 1876 issue, the current restrike is two-thirds the thickness of the Dickeson 1876 pieces.

Heroism Awards Starts Distinctive Collection

The date was October 20, 1924 ... a fire and explosion occurred aboard the light cruiser USS Trenton as she maneuvered on a stretch of water known as the Southern Drill Grounds, and from this explosion came not only death and injury but acts of heroism which resulted in a special medal being awarded to ex-Seaman second class Thomas Howard Bailey of Etna, Pa.

One of the four stack, Omaha-class cruisers, the USS Trenton was at the time firing trial shots in order to test her guns. The mount was trained abeam in which position the only entrance door being in the rear, projected from the opposite side of the ship.

The shells were in the mount and order was given to send up the powder. The powder for the right gun came up immediately, but there was some delay in the left powder hoist starting.

After a question of seconds the left hoist came up with the powder on fire. The gun captain started toward the burning powder with the evident intention of placing it in the immersion tank, when there was a sudden flash which set off both charges in the mount and killing or injuring all therein.

The following quotes are excerpts from the opinion of a court of inquiry which convened to inquire into the accident.

"That Thomas H. Bailey, Seaman second class, U.S. Navy, exhibited fortitude, endurance, and courage under the most trying circumstances.

"It appears that you were jammed in the rear access door, pinned there by reason of the fact that your leg was doubled up in the pile of unconscious men around the hand rammer, and, although the skin from your face was hanging in shreds from severe burns, you succeeded in getting the nozzle of the hose and passing it into the turret, thereafter keeping the kinks out of it where it passed over the edge of the door. Although so seriously wounded, you repeatedly refused assistance for yourself until several of the other men had been cleared away and passed to safety.

"Devotion to duty, loyal and faithful service under all conditions are expected of each person in the naval service. It is, nevertheless, a matter of deep gratification to the Department to have these qualifications exhibited, under such circumstances, by one of its personnel. It is with pleasure that the Department commends you for your conduct on this occasion."

board of inquiry, and was passed on to Bailey by the Secretary of the Navy.

Another medal was awarded to Bailey. This one from Liberty magazine, and is one of 12 of its kind. Liberty made the presentation, along with a check for $1,000, on behalf of its many readers.

In making its award, Liberty said, "Instances of such notable behavior are exceedingly rare and it is gratifying to us to have been able to recognize it. We are sure that in extending to you this token of recognition we are heartily joined by all our readers."

The letter was signed by Harvey Deutell, managing editor.

In addition, Bailey has been awarded a medal for World War I, the New York State medal, Navy and Marine medal, and a citation from the secretary of the navy.

Today... ex-Seaman second class Bailey lives at Etna, Pa., where he enjoys his hobby of coin collecting. He is currently working on his collection of Lincoln and Indian head cents.

Also, Bailey is in the market to trade some guns from his collection for U.S. coins. His address is P.O. Box 9504, Etna.

Hazelwood Began His Numismatic Career Early; Now Heads Firm

Wichita, Kan., coin collectors are proud of the Wichita Coin and Stamp Co., and of Jack Hazelwood, who operates it, according to Mrs. Daisy L. Hayes, member of the Wichita Coin Club, in a recent report to Coin World.

"When Jack Hazelwood opened a coin shop here four years ago," Mrs. Hayes advised, "he was the youngest professional numismatist in the United States. Today, his firm has become one of the largest in the middlewest."

When Hazelwood was 17 he was already a part time dealer in coins. His interest grew out of the fact that his father, Floyd, now a Salina manufacturer, was a coin collector. The father quit his job about 10 years ago to become a full time dealer in coins and stamps. Floyd became a dealer by accident. A debtor paid him off with his coin collection and Hazelwood had to sell them to get his money back.

"Some hobby experts say that when a hobby becomes a business, it no longer is a hobby," Hazelwood said. "I do not agree with this. My greatest pleasure outside of my family is the study of coins. There is a story behind every coin minted since coinage originated 700 years before Christ's birth. The real numismatic student wants to dig out and preserve those stories."

His company handles not only coins and stamps at wholesale and retail, but a wide variety of books and accessories. His father makes numerous accessories such as holders and containers for coins so they are in a joint venture in distribution of these items.

Hazelwood has two pet projects: Establishment of a school of numismatics in some American college, and making Wichita national headquarters of the American Numismatic Association.

There are numismatic chairs in some European universities but there never has been one in this country.

By coincidence, Hazelwood, a mathematics major at WU, had as an instructor Lewis M. Reagan, who is secretary of American Nuismatic Association and long time collector.

"Reagan encouraged me to become a student of numismatics, even suggesting I enter the teaching field. As a result of his help, I started a big library which is still growing."

Hazelwood has entered the field of producing reprints of outstanding numismatic articles and publications of the past in efforts to get others to study this hobby.

He is a member of American Numismatic Assn., American Numismatic Society, Oklahoma-Kansas Numismatic Assn., Wichita Coin Club, Southwest Philatelic Assn., and the Methodist Church. His first coin shop, in the ninth block on North Broadway, soon became too small for his volume of business and he opened his present store at 313 W. Douglas 18 months ago.

Members Plan State Group

Membership of the Meridian Area, Miss., Coin Club agreed that definite action should be taken in cooperation with other Mississippi clubs to form a State Numismatic Association, reports Charles A. Herfurth, secretary-treasurer.

In this regard, a state meeting has been tentatively scheduled for March 17 and 18, 1962 at Greenville, Miss.

The Meridian Area club, organized in January of this year with a charter roll of 32, has passed the 50 mark in membership, said Herfurth. Membership chairman is C. L. Skinner.

At a recent meeting club president Louis Parmer took charge of a 121-lot coin auction with the assistance of K. B. Kaiser.

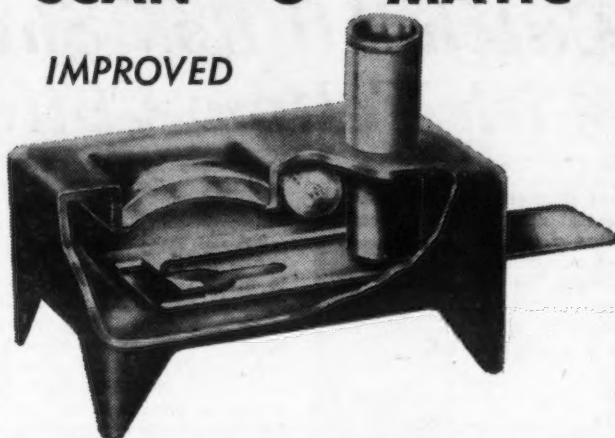

Meridian club meets on the third Monday of each month at the Lamar Hotel, Meridian, beginning at 7:30 p.m.

Gold Coin Found

Jack Alden of Columbia, Mo., recently found a gold coin, date not readable, on the site of the second Civil War Battle of Boonville, Mo. The battle was fought September 13, 1861.

SCAN - O - MATIC IMPROVED

The originators of SCAN-O-MATIC, the first Automatic Coin Viewer in the price range you can afford, are happy to announce improvements on the original model. These changes will make examining of coins easier for you:

1. NEW LENS — More than double the magnification of the original.
2. IMPROVED SOCKET — Permanently mounted, with no prongs on outside of unit.
3. IMPROVED SPRING INSTALLATION — More secure and maintains adjustment.

Examine the improved SCAN-O-MATIC at your dealers. See how quickly you can go through a roll of coins and how clearly they are magnified for you. And don't forget — SCAN-O-MATIC feeds the coins, turns them over, and ejects them automatically.

REMEMBER — CHRISTMAS IS ONLY A FEW WEEKS AWAY!

Purchasers of original model may have the new lens installed by sending unit to manufacturer, at a cost of only $2.95 including return postage.

Fair To Very Fine Catch-All Box Shared With Fellow Collectors

By James G. Johnson

Mention of 1920-D dimes with rotated reverses in the Clearinghouse of this issue and earlier, reminds me of some dimes of that year and Mint which I have in a special holder. If they are rotated, I have never noticed it because I have not looked. If I can remember to, I will. They are in that holder for a different reason. All have a short vertical die crack from the neck to the rim, and show successive degrees of that break, from faint to sharp. I think there are six.

Many times I have said that I am not an "error" or "oddy" collector. That is true in the sense that I don't go looking for them or normally have any particular collection "arrangement" for them.

But like most collectors, I run across the "odd" ones from time to time. Things like flaky planchets or clips I toss in a box, along with coins that have been tampered with or that have miscellaneous unlisted things wrong with them. When I was a dealer, I used to have that box out on my bourse table with an invitation for people to "browse" in it and make an offer for anything they would like to have.

Since most of the contents were "finds" at face value, I usually accepted the first offer and was glad to get rid of the stuff. I still have the box, and toss coins into it occasionally. When collectors come to my house to trade coins, as quite a few do now, and express an interest, they are welcome to look over the box, but otherwise it stays on a corner shelf. Some day I might catalogue the contents, but there is no rush. I expect to live another 50 years.

Of course, if I should happen to run across a 1955 "shift" cent, it probably would not go into the box. I would take it to the next coin club meeting and offer it for trade, or put it up for auction so I could obtain something I needed. But that is a slightly different matter. Although I am not sure just why, in principle; possibly because it is a specific date with a recognized error.

To get back to the topic I began, those 1920-D dimes were put in the special holder for display because I thought they might interest other collectors as they did me. One die-cracked coin is not unusual, but a set of six from presumably the same die and showing progressive stages of the break does have unusual and educational features. But I do not include them as any part of my date and series collection, as I do not believe they belong there.

To be frank, I do have a very few such oddities in my collection holders, but they are put on the ends of their respective series. For example, at the end of the Barber dime series I have an off-center coin; at the end of my Buffalo collection, I put the 3-legged and several different dates of the 2-feathered varieties; and following the Lincoln set there is a 1922 broken "D", a dateless cent, and a blank planchet.

If anybody says I am inconsistent, I will agree. But I do not believe there should be any place within a series for varieties. There could be no end to that. Some holders have holes for four or five varieties of a single date of large cents, for example.

Newcomb and Sheldon list many such, and who is wise enough to set himself up as an authority on which varieties should have holes in folders and which should be ignored? Let there be special folders or holders made for the specialist, and let the ordinary date collector not have to worry about varieties. And I can see no valid reason for a single exception to that, including patterns and coins made in proof only and not regular issue.

Getting back again to the 1920-D rotated reverse, many of the people who wrote in asked for the value of their coins, just as many do in regard to other oddities.

Values are peculiar things, and have no standards, catalogues to the contrary notwithstanding. Values for ANY coin may vary from day to day and from one person to another, whether he be dealer or collector. In the final analysis, a coin is worth only what somebody will pay for it, in other words, what it is worth to the individual who wants it.

A coin may have a "book value" but many times dealers and collectors will say that such and such a coin is "over-priced" or "underpriced" in the Red Book, so that even that "bible" of coin collectors cannot be a fixed standard of values. There just is no such thing.

It can be said that there is a "trend" of values, and that is about as close as anybody can come. Obviously, trend values are not fixed values, but, like the Red Book, are average values figured out by a group of dealers or based on a number of sales. What people are actually paying for an item is a closer indication of its actual value than any "Average" can be, but it should be the amount a good many people are willing to pay, not just one or two.

After all, even Mr. "Trends" himself, has said that the sale of one given coin in an auction where some millionaires are bidding does not make the price realized for it in that place at that time, the true value of that coin.

Once, a specialist in "silver cents" was offered a piece he needed to fill a vacant date hole. The price asked was $850. He turned it down because it was not worth that price, did not have that much value for him, whether or not it did for the would-be seller.

Fair-Fine . . .

If the seller never did sell the coin at that price, because nobody else wanted it badly enough to pay that much, what was the coin's value? Can anyone say that its value was $850? To the owner, maybe, but can one man set a value on a coin to the satisfaction of all? I doubt it.

The Red Book may have an average value of $10 for a given coin. That means that the group of dealers who send in values or their prices, are charging that much for it on the average, some pricing it higher and some, lower.

If nobody buys it at that price, and the dealers still wish to sell it, the next Red Book will show a lower price or value for it. Of course, if the dealers don't care whether they sell that coin or not, then the price may stay there indefinitely. But in general, dealers prefer to sell what they have in

Dealers Attend Show

Coins were among the many items being offered for sale at the recent antique show and sale held at Waukegan, Ill. Several dealers were represented, it was reported.

stock. If they can't sell at their quoted prices, they lower them until the coins do sell.

That means that the values come down. So the buyers determine the values, in the long run. Keep that in mind. The value of a coin is what it is worth to the collectors who want it. If more collectors want a coin than can be supplied from the number of that coin available, they will bid for it, as in an auction, and the value will go up. If there are more of a given coin than there are collectors who want it, the value will go down.

Charlton has some interesting things to say about prices or values in his "Canadian Trends" in the November 3 issue of Coin World. I urge the reading of that column for a good understanding of how values or "worth" are sometimes set.

If the Red Book quotes a coin at $25 and a dealer offers it at $20, then it is worth $20 in his opinion but not $25. If he could have sold it readily for $25, he would have. If a man will pay $20 for it but not $25, then for him it is worth $20 and not $25.

Buyers' "strikes" have brought values or "worth" down in the meat market more than once, they can do the same in the coin market. "Worth" or "Value" is what collectors will pay at any time, no more and no less.

So when anybody asks for the value of a coin, oddity, foreign, or anything else, I can't quote a specific figure. I don't know what the fellow who wants it is willing to pay for it. I can, and do, suggest a possible market or place where there should be people who might want that coin. The rest is up to the owner. (I have never suggested that anybody buy space in the paper to advertise such a coin, but that can be done, and some have done it.)

In general, the best place to find out the value of a coin is the nearest coin club. That is or should be one of the purposes of a coin club. There are potential buyers there, and they should know what they would be willing to pay for such a coin. That is what the coin is worth, no more and no less.

The Red Book is what its other name implies—a "Guide" and not a fixed standard of values.

Call For Convention Announcements!

Chairmen of coming conventions should write to us as soon as their convention date is set.

Announcements are printed in Coin World for coming events six months ahead — or as space permits — but we welcome the information well in advance.

Please send the following information for the calendar:

- 1) Dates of convention or show
- 2) Name of sponsoring organization
- 3) Name of convention or show
- 4) Name and address of convention site
- 5) Name and address of convention chairman

If you are planning your convention and want to know if the date conflicts with one already scheduled in your area, write us. We perform this service free to help avoid conflicts. Please include a stamped addressed envelope.

Myers Wins At Coinarama

LeRoy E. Myers of Pomona, Calif., took first place honors with his exhibit of U.S. paper money at the recent first annual Coinarama sponsored by the Ventura, Calif., County Coin Club, it was reported.

It was estimated that approximately 1,000 persons attended the show, including 15 dealers who were on hand to buy and sell coins.

The value of coins on display was estimated to be almost $15,000, not including individual collections on display by traders and dealers.

A trading session followed a coin auction at the show, which was staged at the Brotherhood of Electrical Workers Hall on East Main street in East Ventura.

Owensboro Will Plan Installation

Monday, November 13, has been set for the next meeting of the Owensboro, Ky., Coin Club, to be held at the R.E.A. building, 1003 Allen Street, at 7:30 p.m., according to a report from secretary Dudley R. Capelle.

Just two and a half years old, the Owensboro club has passed the 175 mark in membership, with 40 of the total being juniors. Among its future plans are to have a formal installation of officers at a dinner meeting during its anniversary month, next April.

Olive Guest Speaker

H. V. Olive of Spring Valley, Ill., was a recent guest speaker at a meeting of the Spring Valley Rotary Club. He spoke on the subject of coin collecting.

Anthracite Show Well Attended

More than 600 collectors attended the first annual Anthracite Coin Club Show held at the Eagles Clubhouse in Hazleton, Pa., which was highlighted by several exhibits of rare, unusual and beautiful collections, according to a report from Mrs. Bessie G. Berge, secretary of the Hazleton club.

Each person that exhibited his collection was awarded a Whitman Blue Book, with an emphasis being placed on the exhibition, rather than on bourse tables.

One of the highlights of the show, at which Mayor S. Thomas Capparelli presided, was the silver dollar collection of Harry Berge of Hazleton, who also served as general chairman of the show.

Berge displayed a complete set of Morgan dollars, ranging from 1878 to 1921, and a complete set of Peace dollars from 1921 to 1935.

Another top exhibit was that of Alex Zmiejko of Freeland, Pa. He displayed four Indian head $2.50 gold pieces dated 1911, 1926, 1927 and 1929, and five Liberty $5 gold pieces dated 1835, 1899, 1901, 1906 and 1915. He also displayed unusual currency he has collected of foreign countries, and several Commemorative coins.

A display by Ron Marchetti of Freeland included a 1916-D Mercury dime, an 1871 shield nickel, two uncirculated 1931-S cents and an 1878 $3 gold piece. He also displayed his collection of proof sets from 1953 to 1961.

An unusual exhibit was that of

Briggs Named Club Treasurer

Don Briggs has been appointed treasurer of the Panhandle Coin Club, of Chadron, Nebr., to fill out the unexpired term of Faye Seveland, who recently left Chadron in order to take a position with an Aurora, Colo., Bank.

At a recent meeting, Bill Alden displayed his collection of U. S. medals. Three new members were also taken into the Chadron club, Junior Houston, Tommy Donahue, and Mitzi Lecher.

Clarence Kramer of Hazleton, who displayed some of the 3,000 wooden nickels he has been collecting for the past 10 years. His wooden collection includes nickels from all over the world and vary in size from the diameter of a penny to three inches.

Kramer also had on display proof sets, mint sets, uncirculated coins, and mint errors.

The foreign collection of George Andrasi represented 65 countries. Among the items he has collected in the past 20 years are 1807 and 1813 Spanish "pieces of eight" and South African proof coins.

Donald Kromis displayed a beautiful set of Commemorative half-dollars, and Joseph J. Kapes had an outstanding display of foreign coins and currency.

Members of the Junior Club, organized six months ago, also exhibited their collections.

Clarence Kramer is president of the 65-member Hazleton club.

Convention officials included, in addition to Berge, who was general chairman, and Wilbur Welkie, co-chairman, include the following members:

Auction—Donald Kromis, chairman; Alex Ziejko, John Matyas, John Breznitsky, John Demko, Ruth Grzyb, Stanley Grzyb, Joseph J. Kapes, David Stutsman and Ronald L. Marchetti.

Registration and prizes—George Somers, chairman; Doris Sturtevant, Louise Brennan, Bertha Buecker, Phyllis Diehl, Ruth Le Grande, Ruth Heiser, Gunnar Tomko and James Walker, Jr.

...YESTERYEAR IN NUMISMATICS

"So long as the past will be searched and the present recorded there will be numismatists, and so long as there are numismatists the name and work of Dr. Heath will be remembered and revered." Those words were spoken at the Dr. George F. Heath Memorial exercises in Monroe, Mich., during the American Numismatic Association convention held in Detroit, Mich., in 1925. The speaker was Farran Zerbe.

Electric washing machines were being demonstrated at a Wilkinsburg, Pa., hardware store. A bank sent a sum of greasy old paper bills to be laundered. In a few minutes the grease had disappeared and in place of the soiled bills there was a roll of crisp, clean paper. The sidewalk and the main aisle of the store were jammed, so great was the interest in the laundering of paper money.

Wood's Halfpenny in very fine condition, and the 1854 pattern cent, uncirculated, were offered by Ambrose J. Brown of Marblehead, Mass., for $3.50 for the pair.

Walter Strubinger of Chicago, Ill., was asking $4 each for uncirculated $2.50 gold pieces with early dates.

It was announced that the late

John M. Wulfin, of St. Louis, Mo., for many years a member of A.N.A., gave his collection of coins and numismatic library to Washington University, St. Louis, as well as $10,000 to be used as a graduate course in ancient coinage at the university.

Officers of the Chase National Bank and Farran Zerbe, chairman of the board of governors of A.N.A., were hosts at a luncheon in the dining room of the New York bank. Mr. Zerbe was officially designated at the time as the "Chase Numismatist." The luncheon was held in June.

Mr. and Mrs. B. Max Mehl and daughters, Lorraine and Dana, were scheduled to sail from New York on June 22 on the steamship Roma for Naples. They expected to return in time for the A.N.A. convention set for August 24-29 in Chicago.

Zim Stamp and Coin Co., Salt Lake City, Utah, was asking 60 cents each for uncirculated 1931-S Lincoln cents. The 1931-D was priced by Zim at 70 cents each in the same condition.

Lincoln cents of 1909-S in fine condition were offered at 20 cents each by I. R. Metzler of Beaverton, Ore. Cents from 1910-S to 1926-S in fine to very fine were listed at 10 cents each.

Twelve members and six guests attended a meeting on August 5 of the Atlanta, Ga., Coin Club.

Frank C. Wilson, Chicago, was offering the following coins 1909-S VDB uncirculated $3; 1914-D uncirculated $3; 1931-S uncirculated 45 cents.

M. Vernon Sheldon was general secretary of the American Numismatic Society; Ted Hammer was librarian and curator.

B. Max Mehl, Fort Worth, Texas, was announcing the auction sale of an extensive collection of Coin of the World, formed by the late Thomas W. Voetter. Voetter was A.N.A. member number 81.

James Kelly of Dayton, Ohio, was making plans to conduct an early Fall sale in September.

The 1856 Flying Eagle cent in very fine sharp condition was advertised by William E. Morehead of Arlington, Va., at $116.

Damon Weeks Wins Title

Damon Weeks of Eads, Colo., won first place honors in the Arkansas Valley Coin Club exhibitions held recently during a club meeting at Rocky Ford, Colo., and earned enough points to win the exhibition title for 1961.

Although the contest will not end until December, Weeks' displays during the past months have totaled enough points to win.

The price of 1931-S Lincoln's was climbing. G. M. Tidd of Pasadena, Calif., offered one for $1.15 uncirculated.

The Dallas Coin Club, organized in 1928, was host to the 1952 convention of the American Numismatic Association.

The 13th annual banquet of the Lehigh Valley Coin Club was held at the American Legion Home, Palmerton, Pa., on October 23. The banquet was highlighted by 11 displays of coins and each person received an award for his display.

Kaplan Speaks At Cincinnati

Sol Kaplan, president of the Cincinnati, Ohio, Numismatic Association, will be the principal speaker at a meeting of that group on November 10, at 8 p.m., in the Cincinnati Club building on Eighth street.

Kaplan will give a report on the recent Congress of International Association of Professional Numismatists, and will show color slides of his European trip.

The usual auction will also be held at this meeting.

Designs Announced

At least 15 new designs are being scheduled for inclusion in Whitman's Bookshelf album line.

Non-Profit Show To Be Held In Tampa In January

The Florida Mid-Winter Coin Show, sponsored by the Tampa Coin Club, Inc., will be held in the Pan American Building, Florida State Fairgrounds, Tampa, on January 18, 19, 20 and 21, 1962, it was announced by John M. Hall, coordinator.

"Unlike the conventional coin show, this one is non-profit, non-sectional and is designed to interest collectors of all age groups," Hall said, "and because of these factors, active support of advertising at the state and national level is being offered, city recreational departments, civic groups, banks and business organizations are cooperating."

"Displays and bourse tables will occupy an area larger than any show ever held in this country, and coming during the height of the winter tourist season, and only two weeks before America's largest winter Fair, an attendance of more than 100,000 is anticipated."

After the success of last winter's show when more than 11,000 visitors viewed the exhibits and displays, interspersed with more than 40 bourse tables, it has been found necessary to expand to accommodate additional clubs, dealers, galleries, and the many who have requested space for the show.

Harry Adams, president of the St. Petersburg Coin Club, is in charge of all dealer and display contact. Frank Vitello, president of Tampa Coin Club, Inc., is handling the auction, and Oscar Fiman is in charge of buildings and grounds.

Being a non-profit show, designed primarily for educational and instructive purposes, and being put on by Junior and Senior coin clubs scattered over the entire state, it should prove interesting and beneficial to collectors, particularly the thousands of new collectors who have discovered the fun, the profit, and the educational value of coin collecting.

New Jerseyites Conduct Drive

The Morris and Essex Coin Club of Livingston, N.J., is presently engaged in conducting a membership drive, according to word from Evelyn Pilchman, secretary of the recently organized club.

Guest speakers will be added to future programs to speak on interesting topics concerning numismatics, the secretary said, and coin auctions will be attempted at each meeting.

Interested persons are invited to attend club meetings on the fourth Thursday of each month at the Recreation Building in Livingston.

Nominating Report Set For Wichita

Report of the nominating committee for 1962 officers were expected to be made at the Wednesday, November 8, meeting of the Wichita, Kansas Coin Club, set for the Sedgwick County Courthouse, at 7:30 p.m.

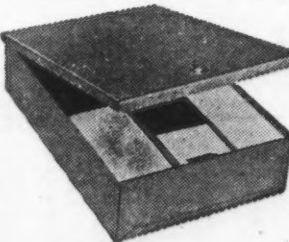

The election, however, will take place at a December dinner meeting. Members of the nominating committee comprised the past presidents of the Wichita club.

Hoobery Finds Cent

W. J. Hoobery of Lafayette, Tenn., was looking at his coin collection recently and noticed that a copper cent was dated 1943. The Mint reports only steel cents were minted during 1943.

TRADING POST

Now Available To Collectors In Every Issue Of Coin World!

In response to the requests of collectors everywhere and the desire to keep up the trading habit to make coin collecting more interesting, Coin World has created the new feature "TRADING POST" which will be limited to traders only. See Index for page number.

This is your trading center, collectors! No commercial accounts, no merchandise or supplies can be advertised here. Trading Post Word Ads are limited to only numismatic items which may be traded. No Buy/Trade nor Sell/Trade items allowed . . . just honest, straight trading and dealing between collectors across the nation who meet "At The Trading Post."

Now is the time to trade your duplicates and fill those holes with some other collector's surplus coins . . . at little cost to you. You'll find The Trading Post is a reasonable and readable place to meet others to do your trading. Where else can you meet with 75,000 collectors . . . several of whom may be interested in trading with you.

HOW TO QUALIFY FOR TRADING POST ADS

1. Offer only For Trade Word Ads listing coins (or coins) for coin and/or equal value (either Red Book or Coin World Trends.)
2. Specific trades only—what you have for what you want. No Buy/Trade or Sell/Trade items may be included.
3. Limited to collectors. Not open to commercial accounts.
4. Limited to numismatic items only, no merchandise.
5. Right is reserved to reject any Trading Post Word Ads which do not qualify.

The Romance of MONEY

By Ted Hammer

A Wichita coin dealer in a recent interview pointed out a need in this country—a chair of numismatics in some college. While numismatics has been taught in European colleges for years, there is no such course in America, the dealer pointed out.

Ted R. Hammer pointed out. There are several hundred numismatic dealers in this country, in addition to other professional numismatists not dealing in direct buying or selling. There are several secretaries of societies, at least three numismatic librarians and persons doing research for major dealers.

Whether it would pay a college to install a chair of numismatics

Overton Speaks To Neighbors

Al C. Overton of Pueblo, Colo., was the featured speaker at the October 8 meeting of the Zebulon Pike Coin Club of Colorado Springs, Colo.

Overton has given several talks on U.S. coins before the Zebulon Pike club in recent months. His special field is early U.S. half dollars, and he has done considerable research on these coins.

Several sets of American Numismatic Association slides were also shown at the meeting.

is open to argument, but there can be no argument over the need. The dealer making the suggestion is a good example. A math-chemistry major, he decided at the age of 19 to become a full time numismatic dealer. He had dabbled in coins as a part time dealer for two years. Even after starting out professionally, he continued in college.

Within five years he was among leading dealers in the midwest. A math teacher had encouraged him to build a big numismatic library, and he is still doing this. But the only way he could pick up information was through magazines and books and attendance at meetings with programs on coin collecting.

Some professionals and even amateurs have studied at the American Numismatic Society, New York. An excellent library, some of the top students of the world and a huge collection make the ANS a good place to study. But one is more or less on his own there.

There are editors and writers on numismatics galore in the United States and some of them have doctorates—but not in numismatics. They've come from such fields as education, mathematics, history and languages.

This might be a good place for an association of coin collectors to invest in the future by establishing a chair of numismatics in some school. A two-year course probably could be provided as a start. If numismatics is a science—the science of money and medals—the pro should be able to study elsewhere than hit or miss in his bedroom, living room or public library.

Syracuse University had a numismatics course years ago, but the number of prospective students has increased enormously since then.

Ypsilanti Winners Named

Winners in the Ypsilanti, Mich., coin show, sponsored by the Ypsilanti Coin Club have been announced by Peter M. Kress, general chairman for the show. The show was held last month at the Masonic Temple, Ypsilanti, with more than 200 persons in attendance.

Tom Abercrombie of Ypsilanti won the member grand award for his display of Canadian tokens, and the non-member grand award went to K. D. Rice of Ypsilanti for his display of U. S. paper money.

Other first place winners included R. Don Newhouse, Ypsilanti, U.S. general; Robert Anderson, Belleville, U. S. copper coins; Peter M. Kress, Belleville, ancient; and Tom Abercrombie, Ypsilanti, miscellaneous and special.

Another exhibitor, J. Wintersteen, took three first place awards which included foreign coins, foreign paper and medals and decorations.

Officers for the show, in addition to Kress, were Robert Anderson, auction chairman; R. Don Newhouse, exhibits and awards chairman; Mrs. Ilyne Sari, publicity; John Burt, publicity; Richard Wasko, registration and prizes chairman; Milan McKenna, security chairman, and Tom Abercrombie, location chairman.

Kress also served as bourse chairman, it was reported. Plans are already underway to make next year's show even bigger and better.

Railsplitter Show

Attracts Thousands

A 280-lot auction, exhibits of U. S. and foreign coins, and a bourse consisting of dealers from 10 states highlighted the recent annual Fall Coin Show of the Railsplitter Coin Club of Lincoln, Ill.

Nearly 2,000 persons attending the two-day show held at Lincoln's K. of C. Hall. A. A. Mervier was the show's chairman; Charles Dutz, bourse chairman; Edward Tesh, publicity; Ray Janusick, auctioneer.

Medal Society Meets In Rome

An international federation of designers of medals held its five-day convention in Rome in late September at the conclusion of the sessions of the International Numismatic Congress, also held in the Italian capital.

"Federation Internationale des Editeurs de Medailles," International Federation of Medal Designers, staged the conclave at the famous Palazzo Braschi so that medallists from the entire world could meet and exchange ideas.

"The zenith of the convention," commented Jacques Schulman, Amsterdam numismatist in a special report to Coin World, "was the impressive exhibition of contemporary medals. This exhibition gave the visitors some idea of the fine work that is being done today in the field of medallary art."

Schulman said that the Netherlands was represented at this exhibition with 75 medals designed by 25 contemporary Dutch artists.

First Annual Siouxland Show Termed Success By Chairman

The first annual Siouxland Coin Collectors Association convention, held recently at the Sheraton-Martin Hotel at Sioux City, Iowa, was said to be a "whopping success," according to a report from John T. (Ted) Alvey, general chairman.

All dealers and out-of-town guests were well received by the city and several visitors commented that Southern hospitality surely begins in Sioux City.

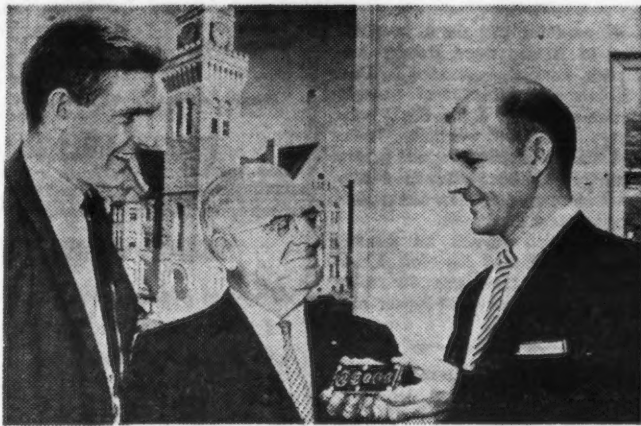

More than 450 were in attendance for the three-day affair, some from as far away as Virden, Ill., which is over 550 miles from Sioux City. There was active dealing in the bourse area with several dealers noting a gross business over $2,000. The auction went over very well, also, with a total sale of more than $3,200 reported.

The fine gold collection of Don Jensen of Humboldt, Iowa, was on display and drew a great deal of interest. This particular collection is valued at over $55,000 and includes the $4 gold Stella in brilliant uncirculated condition. Jensen also displayed a proof set of Liberty nickels, uncirculated Lincoln and Indian cent sets, and no less than three 1856 flying eagle cents.

Golby C. Uhler, president of the Siouxland association, and auctioneer at the convention, reported that Sioux City has been promised that the State convention will be held there either in 1963 or 1964. This is quite an accomplishment for a group that is not yet one year old.

Dealer space was limited to 20 dealers, resulting in more than 15 additional dealers being turned down on their request for table space.

It was estimated that coins on display were valued at more than $1 million. "Perhaps it's closer to Sioux City, Iowa, Mayor George Young, center, was presented with a proof set of U. S. coins by T. J. Alvey, right, general chairman of the first annual Siouxland Coin Collectors association convention, held for three days at the Sheraton-Martin hotel. Colby C. Uhler, associated president, looks on.

$2 million," suggested Alvey. At night three armed guards stood watch over the displays and bourse tables.

The $4 Gold Stella displayed by Jensen is valued at $4,000. Other coins in his display included gold coins of $1, $2.50, $3, $5 and $20 denominations. Age of the pieces are from 1795 to 1933 when gold pieces were discontinued. His is a type collection of the various denominations.

Oldest coin in Mr. Jensen's collection is a 1792 half-dime (half-cent). The coin is a forerunner to entire United States coinage. It reportedly was struck from silver furnished by George Washington. There were only 400 made. All were given to the first president and he distributed them among his friends. The face on the coin supposedly is a likeness to Martha Washington.

Jensen, a collector for 25 years, has coin holdings valued at approximately $100,000.

"The value of coins is determined by their condition, scarcity (amount minted), and popularity—how often they are put on the market," Mr. Jensen said. "There is more demand than there is supply. Conventions such as this help stimulate more interest and more demand. The increased demand has caused the cost of coins to skyrocket," he added.

According to Mr. Jensen most collectors will spend about $100 or so at a convention such as the one which held at the Sheraton-Martin.

"The most I've ever spent at a single convention is $4,000 to $5,000. I usually spend about $1,000. But I also sell some coins," he said.

He classifies himself chiefly a collector since he seldom sells anything but duplicates.

A complete set (1856-1909) proof and uncirculated Indian head coins are being displayed by Mr. Jensen.

Another item in the Jensen display is a complete set (11 pieces) of commemorative gold half dollars and 48 silver half dollars. These coins were minted to commemorate certain individuals, events or places.

Three Flying Eagle cents in his display (1856) are worth $1,100 each.

Another interesting portion of his display is a representative collection of encased postage stamps. They were used for money during the Civil War period to replace coins. Stamp collectors also seek those items. Denominations are 1, 2, 3, 4, 10, 12, 24, and 30 and 90 cents.

Part of his collection usually hangs in the Humboldt National bank. That's a $10 bank note issued by that bank in 1902. It's the large size currency no longer circulated. The display includes a $20 note issued in 1929 by the Humboldt bank. The size is the same as used today.

Razed Building Yields Rarity

Workmen razing the Salem Bank and Trust Company buildings on West Lincoln Avenue, Goshen, Ind., recently uncovered a 1909 Lincoln cent which they sold to Donald Cripe of Goshen for $2.

The cent turned out to be a 1909-S VDB.

Another 1909-S VDB was found in Goshen recently by Tobie Ann Calbeck of 306 Park Avenue. She found her coin while searching through parking meter money, and sold it later for $55, it was reported.

Maryland Group Includes Juniors

Membership in the Western Maryland Coin Club, Cumberland, Md., is reported at 122, including 88 adults and 34 juniors.

The club meets on the third Tuesday of each month at 7:30 p.m. in City Hall.

Texas Woman Wins Honors

Mrs. Avanelle Setzer, serving her second year as secretary-treasurer of the Center Piney Woods Coin Club, Center, Texas, was recently awarded a first prize plaque for her medal exhibit at the Fall convention of the Texas Numismatic Association, held at Odessa, Texas.

Joe Davis of Corpus Christi, Texas, past president of the association, presented Mrs. Setzer with the award.

It was reported that Mrs. Setzer has collected religious, patriotic and commemorative medals as a hobby for a number of years.

Sidney Group Formed

Coin collectors in the Sidney, N.Y., area were to meet recently for the purpose of organizing a coin club. The meeting was scheduled for the Sidney Recreation Center.

Texas Convention Great Event

The recent convention of the Texas Numismatic Association at Odessa, Texas, highlighted by displays which included the 1804 silver dollar, and 1822 Half Eagle and J. V. McDermott's famous 1913 Liberty head nickel, has been termed a "great success" by officers of the association.

Members from throughout the state attended the two day show, as well as collectors from New Mexico and Oklahoma. More than 35 dealers were represented at the bourse.

At the board meeting preceding the show, the vice president resigned and Weldon Kemp, president of the Fort Worth Coin Club, was chosen to fill out the unexpired term of the vice presidents office.

Kemp, who is also chairman of the youth committee, read an interesting report on the various phases of forming and helping junior coin clubs throughout the state. At the general meeting, which was combined with a breakfast Sunday morning at the Lincoln Hotel, the report was unanimously accepted, and the state association decided to go along on junior clubs.

The Odessa Coin Club, host for the affair, was commended for its efforts in making the convention such a great success.

Awards for the best exhibits in the various classes were presented at the breakfast, and West Texas ran off with most of the honors.

The auction, which was held on Saturday afternoon, was a success and attended by many collectors and dealers. The coins that brought the best prices at the auction were early uncirculated and proof Indian cents. Most of the dates prior to 1890 sold at over current Redbook prices, and the dealers were those bidding high prices.

There were many early type coins that also brought good prices. An uncirculated 1909-S VDB cent, which currently catalogs for $115, sold at the auction for $135. There were several uncirculated rolls of coins in the auction, but there didn't seem to be much action on these, although the prices seemed to be a little firmer than they were last year.

The bourse at the convention had about 35 dealers displaying their wares. The bulk of the dealers were from Texas, but there

Skribisky President Of Eastern Group

John Skribisky of Amherst, Mass., was elected president of the New England Numismatic Association during the recent two-day convention of that group held at the Sheraton-Kimball Hotel in Springfield, Mass.

The new president succeeds Everett Townsend Jr. of West Springfield.

It was estimated that more than 1,000 persons visited the convention and viewed the many exhibits on display.

Exhibit winners receiving grand prize awards of engraved Paul Revere bowls were: first prize, James Clapp Jr. of Boston, ancient coins; second, Howard E. Davis of East Hartford, Conn., American colonial coins; and third, Mrs. Francis D'Esopo of Hartford, coins from European occupied countries in World War II and Korea.

Michael Garreffa, 12, of Springfield, won first prize ribbon in the junior division, and second place went to Robert Klaes, 14, of South Deerfield.

Fritz Tidlund of Amherst, exhibit chairman, said the two boys were the only entrants in the 12 to 15 year old division. A total of 35 ribbons were awarded in addition to the grand prizes, he added.

Harry Lessin of South Norwalk, Conn., a former legal counsel to the American Numismatic Association, was banquet speaker. His topic was "So-called dollars."

Henry J. Berube of Springfield, convention chairman, said the two-day registration of more than 650 collectors and dealers represented the largest convention in the N.E.N.A. history.

Terra Alta Hunts Loot

"WACCTANS" is the official title of the West Augusta Coin Club, a Terra Alta Numismatic Society, Terra Alta, W. Va., according to a report from Bud White, president of the group.

Organized last April, the Terra Alta club has a membership of 16 regular, two junior and one honorary.

Meetings are held on the last Friday of each month at 7:30 p.m. in the recreation room of the Terra Alta Methodist Church. Last meeting was held in the form of an actual treasure hunt for legendary Spanish, buried loot in the immediate vicinity.

Officers include, in addition to White, Mrs. Ardith Wiles, vice president; Bill Fouch, secretary; Steve White, assistant secretary, and Bennett McCarty, treasurer.

Interested persons may contact the club by writing secretary Fouch, 301 W. State avenue, Terra Alta, W. Va.

were several out of state dealers. Most of the dealers were quite happy with the convention, and said that they didn't have any trouble selling their choice merchandise.

Type coins and key date Lincoln cents seemed to be in greatest demand, although there were a lot of collectors there and nearly everything seemed to be selling. The next TNA convention was set for Temple next April.

Carr Outlines Gold History

"Gold is the most awe-inspiring word in any language," wrote Ronnie Carr of Tulare, Calif., in a recent issue of The Fresno Numismatist, the official bulletin of the Fresno, Calif., Numismatic Society.

"Gold has been for ages the paramount metal for use as a medium of exchange," continued Carr. "It is the most ductile and malleable of metals. It can be, surprisingly enough, hammered to a thinness of 1/365,000 of an inch and a mere grain can be drawn into a wire 500 feet long.

"The existence of gold in our State," added the California numismatist, "was known by Sir Francis Drake as early as 1577, although nearly three centuries were to pass before deposits were opened up for mass production. The earliest mining operations for this metal in this country were conducted in the Appalachians, along the eastern coast. Their depletion in the middle of the 19th century was in part responsible for the rush of the 49er's.

"California gold has played a large part in the history of this country," Carr went on. "Before the establishment of the Mint at San Francisco in 1854, much of it was used in private coinage, which was necessary to the continuance of commerce, while the lack of regular coin continued.

The finest examples of workmanship in private gold," Carr concluded "are considered to be the $10 and $20 pieces of 1860 issued by Clark Gruber & Co. in Denver, Colo.

Maine Group Holds Exhibit In Brunswick

Collectors from eight to 80 exhibited their collections at the Maine Numismatic Association's recent meeting held in Brunswick, according to a report. Exhibit winners were:

U. S. coins, first, Julius G. Sussman, Augusta; second, Robert J. Porter, Orr's Island; Third, Wilfred Cote, Somersworth, N. H. Harry Burton of Long Island, Me., won first prize for the best collection of foreign coins.

William Elms, president of the state association and also of the Brunswick Coin Club, handled arrangements for the affair. First semi-annual meeting for 1962 will be held in April in Portland, Elms reported.

Elms also announced the appointment of Wendell Dennison of Rockport as chairman of the 1962 officers' nominating committee with members George York of Ogunquit and Wilfred Giroux Jr., Brunswick.

Maurice Storek of Portland has been named as program chairman for the April 1962 meeting.

Winners Named In Column Quiz

By Axel Miltander
Bevaringsgatan 11
Gothenburg N, Sweden

Earlier this summer I had a quiz in this column. The name of the prize-winners are: William F. Brown, Kansas City 12, Mo., Stanley J. Prazer, Erie, Pa., Mrs. Lester Moss, Savanna, Okla., Walter L. Tassker, Drexel Hill, Pa., and Howard Eisenberg, Chicago 44, Ill. The prize-coins have been mailed to them. I am just home from vacation in the upper part of Bohuslan at the Swedish west-coast. I was fishing and sometimes bathing, but it was not necessary to go to the Ocean. Oh no! You could stand on the stairs outdoors. We had such a rain every day, so it was a real bath every time I went to the shop and bought my cigarettes or papers.

A. Miltander

I thought just about the fact, that all places in the world are "numismatica" if you keep your eyes open. Earlier, when I visited Bohuslan, I saw nothing of numismatic interest there. But since I started to collect coins, one can see all things through other eyes. I think about the Soten. Soten is a part of the archipelago, a dangerous part of it because many ships were wrecked there during hundreds of years. So in 1935 a special canal was built to make it easier for at least smaller ships to travel from Sweden to Norway. It is named the Soten canal.

Closed to the Soten you have the island Tryggo. It is a small island with an old "monument" of stone. It is said that the old Norwegian king Olav Tryggvesson was buried there for more than one thousand years ago. But it is, as so many other things in these old parts of the world, a saga only.

I walked on the Tryggo, between hills of stones and felt something of the sing-strokes from the old history.

When I was home again, I met an old man. Where have you been, Mr. Miltander? he asked. I told him. And he began to tell me about himself and how often he goes to Tryggo because there "is so quiet in this stormy world".

I was there last year, he said, together with a friend of mine. We walked near the shore, where hundreds of wrecked ships have been found in centuries. Also many bodies from dead seamen were found there—and still are so—but in older days they were not taken to any cemetery. People, who lived on or near Tryggo, thought that ghosts lived in these dead bodies, so they covered them with plenty of stones. During centuries the bodies have been mounded. Nothing is left, except for items of metals.

Have you found anything? I asked.

Yes, last year, as I said, my friend and I discussed these old days, and I said to him: let us discover one of these hills to see if we can find anything under the stones.

You did?

Yes, two coins. 13th century. Spain and England.

That, my friend, is real numismatic, much more interesting than "large and small dates" on modern cents.

STEEL CENTS

1943-PDS Brilliant Processed roll sets 3 sets (9 rolls) $25.00
For those who want the very finest and believe as I do that an altered coin does not compare numismatically with a beautiful coin in original condition — I have found a way to clean "STEELIES" and maintain their beautiful original lustre — Picking my finest coins and working each thru 8 separate operations requiring over 1 hour per roll — I am giving them an honest grading of EF-AU even though many are very difficult to tell from BU—Supply limited—I consider these roll sets a STEAL — 1 set 3 rolls $21.00 — 3 sets $58.00 POSTPAID!

THREE CLASSIFICATIONS

TRADES . . . No. 195

All strictly trading ads of numismatic items will be listed under Classification 195. This will let the readers interested only in trading concentrate on seeing who has what they want and for what they'll trade!

SALE OR TRADE . . . No. 196

When a trade ad offers numismatic items for sale as well as for trade, it will be listed in Classification 196. For those many offers of selling or trading, this new classification will easily answer a great need.

BUY OR TRADE . . . No. 198

Sometimes a collector wants to buy as well as trade for a coin and that is why we have created Classification 198 and expect it to be widely used by collectors from coast to coast. These 3 new classifications help you!

How Would You Choose The Best Coin Albums?

Separate the original from the imitation as you would separate the men from the

THE LIBRARY OF COINS

By Any Standard, Still The Best!

Complete visibility and complete protection, the two most-wanted features of a coin album, are presented for the first time by THE LIBRARY OF COINS. Bound like books, handsome and compact, each Library of Coins volume displays and protects its coins between two sliding panels of clear, tough plastic. Each coin "porthole" has printed next to it full data on mint mark and quantity minted. Each volume contains a brief background story on the coins, giving both the novice and advanced collector helpful information, including a listing of the rare dates.

Measuring 8 1/4" x 6 1/4", the volumes are low priced, sturdily manufactured, and permanently bound in a variety of identifying colors for the various denominations. Their compact size permits the storing of a large coin collection in very small space. Backbones are clearly gold stamped so that they are as readily identifiable as are books.

The Library of Coins represents the first major innovation in high grade coin albums in more than 30 years, and was several years in development. Designed by numismatists, the Library of Coins is designed to satisfy the needs and desires of numismatists. Write for descriptive circular on the Library of Coins.
